ITALY AND POPE TO SIGN PEACE SUNDAY, BELIEF

$105,000,000 Fixed as Indemnity.

ROME, Feb. 5.—(AP)—A new outline of the probable settlement of the long standing problem of relations between the pope and the Italian state was given out in Vatican circles today with the understanding that it would be signed next Sunday and publicly announced two days later.

In some respects the new basis appears more practical than the solution first suggested for enlarging the present papal territories. The only accession to which the pope is represented as agreeing in a minor modification of the present Vatican confines on the side of Pavia (Cavallotti). It was reported, however, that he does accept an indemnity of 5,000,000 lire (approximately $105,000,000) to be devoted to foreign missions, for the Italian occupation of the pontifical states. The addition of Villa Doria and Ambrak to the Vatican gardens with the intervening territory would have produced complications because several thousand persons live in this area. The pope always has maintained that when an agreement was reached he would insist on a fundamental clause that he "should have no subjects."

Will Have Own Rail Station.

According to the latest reports the pope would preserve the Apostolic palace of the Vatican with the present garden rectified so as to make possible the erection within them of a rail station which would give him access to the world. He also would retain the palace of Chancellery, the Lateran palace and the papal villa at Castel Gandolfo, all of which would enjoy extra territoriality. These properties with the invaluable collections of artistic, archaeological and historical objects which they contain would be recognized as the absolute property of the holy see.

The pope also would be acknowledged as a free and independent sovereign with his person proclaimed as sacred. The exercise of his ministry would be without any control or interference and the holy see would be at liberty to communicate with the Catholic world either directly or through Italian channels free of any charge.

Will Accept Papal Laws.

What the pope insisted upon very much and succeeded in obtaining, it is agreed, was the conclusion of a concordat. This, it is stated, on the part of Italy, will be the pure and simple acceptance of the canon law which will be applied here, if present reports are correct, as it was never before applied in any other modern Catholic country.

Among other clauses, it is understood, it was stipulated that religious marriage, which has been the bone of contention between clerical and anti-clericals for more than a century, will be declared valid in its civil effects. It is true that Premier Mussolini has agreed to sign a concordat with the church which will include an application of the canon law in its integrity. It will be of interest to see how it will work in practice because so far all other countries, even the most Catholic like Spain, Austria and Bavaria, have declined to accept the more stringent measures of the law.

Council to Pass on Pact.

In view of the negotiations for settlement of the Roman question, a bill which was adopted in parliament at the end of last year, regarding the functions of the newly created fascist grand council is attracting much attention. Under this bill solution of the Roman question must be presented to the grand council which has the right to express its own opinion on the subject. The bill says: "The fascist grand council must be consulted on all questions having a constitutional character."

Sentenced to Life Term for Stealing Bags of Beans

Care, Mich., Feb. 5.—(AP)—Thief of 20 bags of beans from an elevator at University, near here, brought a life sentence in Circuit court today for Frank Brown of King's Mill, under Michigan's habitual criminal law. He previously had been convicted of larceny and automobile theft, the last being his fourth felony.

Senate Votes 15 Cruisers, 68 to 12

ROUTS PACIFIST LOBBY; DEFIES WHITE HOUSE

Hint of Presidential Veto Is Heard.

BY ARTHUR SEARS HENNING.

(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)

Washington, D. C., Feb. 5.—(Special.)—By a vote of 68 to 12, the senate late today passed the bill providing for the addition to the navy of 15 cruisers and one airplane carrier. All efforts to extend or abolish the time limit of three years in which the ships must be laid down were defeated overwhelmingly. Under the terms of the bill, five cruisers and the airplane carrier must be begun before July 1, five cruisers next year, and the remaining five cruisers before July 1, 1931. Likewise, to the tune of $9 to 12, the pacifist effort to reduce the number of cruisers to nine, sponsored by Senator George W. Norris (Rep., Neb.), was beaten.

Here Are the 12 Noses.

The twelve senators who voted against the bill were: Black (Dem., Ala.), Borah (Rep., Idaho), Brookhart (Rep., Ia.), Burton (Rep., O.), Dill (Dem., Wash.), Frazier (Rep., N. D.), McMaster (Rep., S. D.), Norris (Rep., Neb.), Nye (Rep., N. D.), Shattuck (Farm Labor, Minn.), Thomas (Dem., Okla.), and Walsh (Dem., Mont.). Senators Blaine (Rep., Wis.), La Follette (Rep., Wis.), Glass (Dem., Va.), and Wheeler (Dem., Mont.) were paired against the bill. The measure now goes back to the house, which probably will accept the senate amendments and dispatch it to the White House this week. President Coolidge is worth at the refusal of the senate to strike out the time limit, and is intimating that he may veto the bill or withhold a budget allotment of funds for construction of the ships.

Church Lobbyists Routed.

The church lobby, which led the pacifist drive to defeat the bill, or failing of that, to eliminate the three-year construction time limit or postpone the building of the ships until after the forthcoming disarmament conference at Geneva, was presciently repudiated by the senate. And fate in a sardonic mood reserved the final humiliation for those who sought to write into the bill a provision obligating in religious intolerance.

In the midst of the debate the senate was thrown into a turmoil of angry dispute on an amendment proposed by Senator J. Thomas (Rep., Ala.) forbidding the flying of any flag or pennant above the Stars and Stripes on any navy vessel. It is customary in the navy to fly a pennant emblazoned with a St. George's cross during church service aboard ship, the pennant being placed above the American flag. When the navy is willing to fly the church pennant in another position, that the Heflin amendment overrode. Its origin to the contention that the pennant is the flag of the Roman Catholic church the proposed prohibition was voted down, 10 to 68.

Bruce Exposes Motive.

When Senator Heflin proposed his amendment, Senator Frederick Hale (Rep., Me.), in charge of the bill, accepted it with the explanation that the navy is willing to fly the church pennant in another position. But the religious intolerance motive came to the surface when Senator William C. Bruce (Dem., Md.) charged that Heflin objects to the pennant because it resembles the Catholic church flag.

"The origin of this amendment will be found in the Ku Klux Klan," asserted Senator Bruce, facing Heflin, in three parts away.

"The senator from Maryland evidently gets his inspiration from the Knights of Columbus," Heflin retorted.

"As long as I represent a state one-fourth Catholic," thundered Bruce, "I will protect with all the indignation of which my nature is capable against the narrow minded bigotry spirit behind this amendment."

Senator Peter G. Gerry (Dem., R. I.) expressed the opinion that the church pennant is flown above the national flag as a recognition that God is supreme over all.

Walsh Attacks Amendment.

"This pennant," said Senator David J. Walsh (Dem., Mass.), a Catholic, "is flown during church services above the Stars and Stripes to direct the attention of officers and men to the ground. There was not any later

Hawks Breaks Coast to Coast Flight Record

Roosevelt Field, L. I., Feb. 5.—(Special.)—Capt. Frank Hawks, flying the Lockheed Vega monoplane, Air Express landed here a minute before 3 o'clock this afternoon, just 18 hours 21 minutes 59 seconds after leaving Mines field, Los Angeles. In spite of storms more than half the way, he bettered by about 37 minutes the record established last year by Arthur Goebel and the late Harry Booth, who crashed on the coast. The veteran air mail and racing pilot took off from the metropolitan airport at Los Angeles at 8:37:30 last night (eastern standard time) and for a few hours, aided by perfect weather and a tail wind his Wasp motored plane sped along at nearly three miles a minute. Then he ran into trouble, but low clouds, snow and intermittent rain storms failed to stop him.

Wife Welcomes Pilot.

In the small and somewhat skeptical crowd that had waited for hours in the cold at Roosevelt field was Mrs. Edith Hawks, the pilot's wife. William S. Brock, who with Ed Schlee of Detroit flew the Atlantic to Crofton from Newfoundland and thence across Europe to Japan in 18 days, was present with Harry Booth, aviation engineer and official timer for the National Aeronautical association.

Brock was among the first to grasp Hawk's hand. Then he turned quickly to the cabin and opened the door. Inside he found Oscar Grubb, the mechanic, almost unconscious and hauled him out into the air. The mechanic's chest heaved as he gulped the fresh ozone, and a few minutes, except for a headache, he appeared to have recovered.

Capt. Hawks, although in an open cockpit, had been well sheltered from the wind and storm. Instead of a flying suit, he wore a heavy fur coat and flying boots over his shoes. He quickly shed his coat and boots and disclosed a nicely pressed business suit, spats and a pair of perfectly shined shoes.

Tells Perils of Flight.

"I would have made it three hours sooner with decent weather," he said, "but there were times I didn't know whether we would ever land at all. We had bad winds almost all the way across, as well as clouds, rain, sleet and snow. We hit the bad weather at Roosevelt, N. Y., and never got out of it until over West Virginia. All that time I was flying between 8,000 and 14,000 feet, trying to get away from the weather."

"Over West Virginia it looked worse for us. I came down through a hole trying to find good weather close to the ground. There was not any later

Queen Mother of Spain Dies; Led U. S. War

MADRID, Feb. 6 [Wednesday].—(AP)—Maria Christina, queen mother of Spain, died here early today.

Maria Christina was 70 years old July 21, 1928. She was the daughter of the late Archduke Charles Ferdinand and Archduchess Elisabeth Franziska of Austria. After an early life of seclusion, during which she expected to become a nun, she met and married King Alfonso XII. of Spain following the death of his first queen, Mercedes of Bourbon.

Regled Until 1902.

The present king of Spain, Alfonso XIII., was born in 1884, six months after the death of Alfonso XII. Two previous children of the royal pair had been daughters. Maria Christina became regent of Spain following the death of her husband and ruled until Mar. 1902, when her son reached legal age to assume the throne.

Drys Describe Haffa's Ethics for Rum Trade

The ethics of the profession of bootlegging as exemplified by the liquor ring of which Al. Titus Haffa [434] was the alleged leader were described by John A. Conwell, special intelligence agent of the internal revenue bureau, yesterday afternoon from the witness stand in Federal Judge Walter C. Lindley's court, where Haffa and four others are on trial on charges of conspiracy to violate the national prohibition law.

Conwell spent more than two hours telling of Al. Haffa's alleged views of bootlegging as he learned them during the period from November, 1927, to March, 1928, while he and his partner, James F. Donahue, were investigating rumors of a $5,000,000 liquor syndicate that was operating on the near north side.

Against Display of Wealth.

Haffa's code, Conwell testified, forbade any ostentatious display of wealth, which the alderman blamed for the downfall of George Remus, millionaire bootlegger.

He had been talking to the alderman on one occasion, the agent said, when the name of Remus was mentioned.

I gave that fellow his start in Chicago.

"I gave that fellow his start in Chicago," Haffa was quoted by Conwell as saying, "and I visited his home in Cincinnati and I saw all his gold doubloons and his $200,000 swimming pool and his $15,000 bathing beach. But that's bad business."

Many a bootlegger has been tripped up for his bad display," Al.

Haffa went on, according to Conwell, as saying, "I visited his home in Cincinnati and I saw all his gold doubloons and his $200,000 swimming pool and his $15,000 bathing beach. But that's bad business."

Doesn't Like the Odds.

While the bootlegging business was a money-making one, there were some things Haffa didn't like about it, Conwell said.

Both Conwell and Donahue told how they had obtained the confidence of Haffa by pretending to be in the market for a good racket.

"Haffa told me that if it was not for his official position he would have taken off his coat, operated a still himself, cleaned up quick, and quit," Conwell said.

Pose as Big Time Gamblers.

Donahue testified he told Haffa that he had $15,000 to put into it.

"I talked about gambling with Haffa," Donahue continued. "I told him I had been running some gambling joints in Baltimore recently."

Donahue testified that Haffa wanted him to use the floor over the El Patio cafe, 715-17 West North Avenue, which is alleged to be owned by the alderman.

The place was not started, the agent said.

BUY 7 MILLION OIL STOCK

New York, Feb. 6.—(Special.)—A runaway market, unparalleled in recent years, developed on the New York stock today in the shares of the Standard Oil Company of Indiana following the unexpected announcement yesterday of a 50 per cent stock dividend. It was 1:18 p. m. more than three hours after the opening, before trading in the stock got under way, and then the buying rush was so great that five specialists were almost overwhelmed.

The initial transaction represented bunched orders of 70,000 shares, and at the opening price of 100 1/2, fixed by agreement, there was involved a total of more than $7,000,000. This meant the shifting of the Standard amount of funds ever called for in a single turn-over in the curb. The only deal comparable to it in recent years was that involving 100,000 shares of General Motors at 14 1/2 on May 14, 1923.

Buying Orders Pour In

Buying orders for the Standard of Indiana stock poured into Wall street from all over the country and from abroad Monday night and this morning in response to the stock dividend announcement which was supposed to mark a crisis in the fight of Col. Robert W. Stewart to retain the Standard of Indiana company against the opposition of John D. Rockefeller Jr. In Wall street the stock dividend generally was regarded as Col. Stewart's strongest appeal for the support of his stockholders. The expected buying of stock, however, was seen as an effort on the part of investors and speculators to cash in on a big stock distribution which the market had not discounted in advance.

While the curb officials were struggling to restore order in the Standard of Indiana trading, frenzied trading in the stock was taking place on the Chicago stock exchange, where a high of 107 was touched. The new stock at the same time was being sold in the over-the-counter market here at around 75 on a "right and basis." Although the unlisted dealings were highly erratic as to price, they fixed roughly a valuation on the increased stock that will result from the Standard stock dividend. At 75 a share for the increased stock, or about 13,442,310 shares that will be outstanding after the 50 per cent stock dividend, the company is worth, "on the market," more than $1,023,000,000.

Enter Billion Dollar Class

Thus for the first time the company enters the exclusive "one billion dollar class," to which only two other Standard Oil companies, the Standard of New Jersey and the Standard of California, now belong. Over the counter prices on the "when issued" stock, however, is unofficial, and may not be maintained in active trading. The 2,371,440 shares of stock now outstanding are worth more than $121,100,000 on the basis of today's closing price on the New York curb.

No official word came today from the Rockefeller group as to its attitude toward the stock dividend action. The stock to be distributed will not be voted in the annual meeting on March 7, at which Col. Stewart will be reflected or defeated, and the only possible effect that the action of the Standard of Indiana board can have is in influencing stockholders.

The books closed in Chicago today for the annual meeting. Friends already issued to the Rockefeller and Stewart committees may be revoked and new ones issued in their stead, up to the day of the meeting.

Associates of the Rockefeller interests said today that the stock dividend action had no visible effect on the proxy fight. They are confident of being able to control the meeting but will continue the work of collecting proxies.

Friends of Col. Stewart were heartened by the stock dividend action and renewed their efforts in his behalf. They insisted that the contest is still to be decided and that either side may win.

CITIZENS BATTLE PAVING PROPOSAL ON NORTHWEST SIDE

Indignant at efforts to force asphalt paving on their community, Edgebrook Manor, in the vicinity of Devon and North Central avenues, the entire citizenry turned out last night to present a petition filed recently with the board of local improvements. The petition asks for the preparation of plans and estimates for the paving of every street within the district, or approximately 45 blocks.

Many of the signatures appended to the petition were found to be those of nonresidents or forgeries after a canvass had been made at the meeting. It was stated. Of the 59 names on the petition, 43 were those of nonresidents and 13 of the remaining 16 were declared forgeries.

"Edgebrook Manor is isolated from the city by a strip of forest preserve," Ferris Laune, president of the Edgebrook Manor Betterment association, said. "May 12 families are opposed to any paving for at least a year. We have good cinder streets and a fund with which to keep them in good condition. Our district has a countryside appearance that would be destroyed by the laying of curbstones and pavings."

Learned, are casting about for a successor to Col. Stewart as head of the Indiana company. Many stockholders, it is understood, have asked the committee to reveal the names of its possible candidates for the Standard of Indiana board and some statement on this point may be issued shortly.

It was reported Mr. Rockefeller's committee now considers President H. Q. Soubert unavailable for the chairmanship in view of his open espousal of Col. Stewart's cause. There is a possibility, it was said, that other candidates will be sought among the personnel of other Standard Oil companies, preferably in the west.

The Rockefeller committee, it was predicted, will have a candidate for the chairmanship to present at the annual meeting in Whiting, Ind.

VON HUENEFELD, WHO FLEW OCEAN, DIES UNDER KNIFE

BERLIN, Feb. 6.—Baron Ehrenfried Gunther von Huenefeld, one of the crew of the Bremen, the first airplane to cross the Atlantic in an east to west flight, died tonight while under an anesthetic for an operation for tumor of the stomach. Within three minutes after chloroform was administered and before the surgeon started to operate the aviator died. The baron entered the sanitarium two days ago.

Baron von Huenefeld was backer of the Bremen flight from Berlin to Greenland Island, off the southern coast of Labrador in the Straits of Belle Isle. The flight ended in a forced landing on April 13, 1919. Credit for the flight went to Capt. Hans von Herten and Commander James Fitzmaurice, the copilot of the Bremen, but it was Baron von Huenefeld's determination that made it possible.

Later, having learned to pilot a plane himself, he abandoned his role of passenger and, with two companions, made a long and dangerous flight from Germany to Tokyo, via India.

Two thousand Chicagoans of German descent bailed Baron von Huenefeld last May at a reception in the Lincoln Turner hall, Sheffield avenue and Diversey parkway. He said: "I know you have an inherent love for the fatherland, but you owe greater devotion to the United States. Stick to your America as we stick to our country. Only patriots can understand patriots." The baron had visited the city once before, in September, 1926, on business affairs, and had many friends here even before the Bremen flight.

Child Opens Stove Door; Sister, 2, Dies of Burns

Her clothing set afire when her brother opened the door of a stove, 2 year old Olga Barik, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Barik, 4537 South Lincoln street, was fatally burned yesterday. She died a short while later in the county hospital. While playing with his two little sisters in the kitchen during his mother's absence, Raymond, the brother, 4 years old, opened the stove to burn some newspapers.

LINDBERGH, AIR MAIL PIONEER, HOPSTOMANAGUA

Finishes Second Leg of Flight to Panama.

BY LOUIS ROSENTHAL

(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)

MANAGUA, Nicaragua, Feb. 6.—Col. Charles A. Lindbergh, piloting a twin motor Sikorsky amphibian plane, landed here at 4:46 o'clock this afternoon, completing another leg on his trail blazing for the air mail and passenger service of the Pan-American Airways from Miami, Fla., to Panama.

He left Miami on Monday morning and is making the trip in three legs. He was officially received at the Marine airfield by the Managua postmaster, the collector general of customs, Irving Lindberg, a University of Illinois graduate, the American minister, Charles C. Eberhardt, Rear Admiral David Sellers, Brig. Gen. Logan Feland, and a large crowd of American and Nicaraguan enthusiasts.

Files from British Honduras

Col. Lindbergh made a perfect landing. He had flown from Belize, British Honduras, where he spent last night.

Great anxiety was felt by the waiting throng for a time, as it was announced that the famed flyer would hand about 2 o'clock. Later it was learned from a radio message from Col. Lindbergh that he planned to circle over San Lorenzo, Honduras, and Corinto, Nicaragua's principal port, as he desired to inspect them from the air, as later they will be included in the Pan-American air mail route. He was accompanied by Col. John Hamilton, and H. L. Busby, mechanic and radio operator. He carried no mail for Nicaragua.

Keeps Year Old Promise

Col. Lindbergh's first statement was that he had complied with his promise made on his good will visit here in January, 1926, that he would return to Nicaragua as a commercial pilot some day. At his request he will not be treated as a celebrity. He was entertained at a strictly private dinner at the American legation this evening.

The plane was refueled immediately in preparation for his hop off tomorrow at 6 a. m. for Cristobal via Punta Arenas, Costa Rica, and David, Panama, a flight of about 250 miles.

JUDGE VACATES JURY VERDICT ON STEGER ESTATE

Probate Judge Henry Horner yesterday vacated the verdict of a jury on Jan. 9 returning George F. Steger, son of the late John V. Steger, piano manufacturer, to his competency. The order was entered on motion of the Chicago Title and Trust company, which was conservator of Steger's estate during the many years of Steger's incompetency.

The trust company alleged that without the conservatorship it could not protect the claims, totaling $900,000, of hundreds of Chicago Greeks and French employees of the piano factory who had lent their savings to Steger. Steger, promising huge profits to his employees, borrowed their money and lost it through speculations, it was charged.

His estate consists of a trust fund of approximately $900,000 left to him by his father. This fund is tied up in litigation to determine whether the principal of the trust, or only the income, can be used to satisfy the debts.

STIMSON COMING HOME TO ACCEPT HOOVER'S OFFER

Refuses to Say What New Job Will Be.

BULLETIN.

MANILA, Feb. 6.—(Special.)—Henry L. Stimson, governor general of the Philippines, today issued the following signed statement in connection with his rumored appointment as secretary of state: "It is true that at the request of the President-elect of the United States I am about to leave the Philippines in order to take up another duty. What that duty is I prefer to leave to Mr. Hoover to announce. I have not been indicated who my successor will be. Vice Governor Gilmore will act until an appointment is made."

Belle Isle, Miami, Fla., Feb. 5.—(Special.)—While the beaches were crowded today with bathers who sought relief from the heat in the ocean, President-elect Hoover was in the trade blasing for the gulf stream and fishing.

His companions on this trip were Mark Woods of Lincoln, Neb., and Thomas C. C. Gregory of Palo Alto, Cal. Gregory's visit has a good deal to do with Mr. Hoover's cabinet problems, but these remain a mystery.

Mr. Hoover is amused at much of the speculation going around him concerning his appointments and the fact that the dreamer named him in that most of the guests are wrong. One report today was that Harland Fiske Stone, associate justice of the Supreme court and former attorney general, would be offered this place again by Mr. Hoover. This comes largely from the fact that he was a Hoover guest last week.

Mrs. Bertha Baur, national committee woman from Illinois, called on Mr. Hoover today and had five minutes conversation with him. George C. Vits, national committeeman from Wisconsin, was another visitor. Mr. Vits also saw Mr. Hoover in Washington. The Wisconsin patronage situation is a peculiar one, due to the factional fights there. Mr. Vits and former Senator Lenroot seem to hold the key to this situation.

Raymond Robins of Chicago and Mrs. Robins were dinner guests at the Hoover home tonight. Gilchrist Stockton of Jacksonville, Fla., one of Mr. Hoover's aids in the Belgium relief work, was another guest. Donald Baird Jr., one of the Republican leaders of New Jersey, and Congressman C. C. Bolton of Cleveland are to see him tomorrow. Mr. Hoover is planning another fishing trip for tomorrow and is likely to be away most of next week on the west coast of Florida.

Austin police early this morning were searching for Eileen Andrews, 13 years old, a student at St. Mel's parochial school, who disappeared from her home at 401 North Central Park avenue last night while her mother, Margaret, and her stepfather, William Andrews, a contractor, were home. A year old sister of the girl, who was leaving that Eileen had left the house with a large man who was seen by her.

On a table Mrs. Andrews found a note saying that the girl had gone to Canada with her father. Eileen's mother is dead, the mother said, and the police were seeking a man who was to have met Eileen through a girl acquaintance at the school.

Schools Face Deficit, Can't Pay

BY OSCAR

The city administration appears to be in a predicament. The school board has voted to raise the tax on property owners, but the city council has refused to pass the bill. The city is now in a financial strait, and the schools are facing a deficit. The city administration is now in a dilemma, as it cannot pay the schools without raising the tax, and cannot raise the tax without the council's approval.

City Landlord

In order to keep the schools from closing, the city administration is now in a dilemma. The city is now in a financial strait, and the schools are facing a deficit. The city administration is now in a dilemma, as it cannot pay the schools without raising the tax, and cannot raise the tax without the council's approval.

Oppose Outing

"If we were to pay $57,000 deficit, we would reduce teachers' pay by 10 per cent," H. Walker, president of the board of education, said. He also said that the city is now in a financial strait, and the schools are facing a deficit. The city administration is now in a dilemma, as it cannot pay the schools without raising the tax, and cannot raise the tax without the council's approval.

Says He Got

"They gave me no money and made other things," said a teacher. "What other things?" asked a reporter. "I would rather starve than work for nothing," replied the teacher. "I think it is a shame that the city should be in a financial strait, and the schools are facing a deficit. The city administration is now in a dilemma, as it cannot pay the schools without raising the tax, and cannot raise the tax without the council's approval."

EMMERSON'S BILL FOR A 3 CENT GAS TAX INTRODUCED

Governor Looks for O. K.
Without Fight.

BY PARKE BROWN.
Chicago, Ill., Feb. 5.—[Special.]—The presentation of his three-cent gas tax bill in both houses of the general assembly, Gov. Louis L. Emerson today expressed his confidence that this road building measure will be passed with comparatively little opposition.

His belief that the bill will receive general approval is based largely on the conviction that Chicago has been treated generously, given as big a share of the road money as any other state will concede to, and considerably more than had been discussed as legislatively possible at any time.

"I'm sure Chicago will like it," he said with a big smile as he issued a written statement to the press. "Cook county and its environs should be satisfied with the treatment provided in this bill."

Chief Opposition from Chicago.
However, the chief opposition to the motor fuel tax, an act for which the state constitution provides, is expected to be knocked out in the state supreme court, has come from Chicago and its suburbs, because, while they are to contribute almost half the cost of the roads to be financed, they are to be down state territory.

The Emerson bill, introduced in the lower house by Representative James J. Tice and in the upper chamber by Senator Martin R. Carlson, not only specifies the manner of distributing the receipts between the state and the 102 counties, but includes an exact appropriation of the estimated income from this source up to the end of 1931.

The arithmetical showing makes it possible to forecast what Cook county and adjoining territory may receive in the way of benefits during this period of one and one-half years.

$18,000,000 for New Roads?
While the bill contains no assurance as to the amount that actually will be paid there, those who have studied the plan say out of a total estimated revenue of $50,000,000, the big metropolitan section probably will benefit directly from the expenditure of $18,000,000 or $18,000,000 for new roads.

The widening of main arteries and the separation of grades at important road and railroad intersections.

This sum exceeds anything forecast for the Chicago area by Gov. Emerson or any other proponent of the tax.

The fundamental idea of the Emerson plan is that two cents of the proposed tax will go to the state department of public works, which builds the state roads, and that the third cent will be set aside for the payment of contracts awarded by counties doing road work under the supervision of the department.

The principal items in the appropriations recommended for the public works department are as follows:
For construction of "bond issue" routes $23,670,000.

For grade separations on "bond issue" routes, $2,500,000.
For widening and improving "bond issue" routes near large centers of population, $7,500,000.

And the main item under the appropriations for the department of finance, which would handle the distributions to the counties is $16,585,000 for that purpose, to be apportioned among the counties in proportion to their totals of licensed automobiles.

From this last item it is estimated Cook county will receive approximately $6,500,000. In addition, it is said that county may look forward to a part of the $23,670,000 set aside for new roads, a substantial amount from the $2,500,000 for grade separations and probably most of the $7,500,000 to be devoted to the widening of main arteries.

Field of 21 Million Yearly.
These proposed appropriations are based upon an estimate that a 3 cent tax will yield approximately $21,000,000 a year, a figure fixed by Frank T. Sheets, chief highway engineer, who with Dewitt Billman, secretary of the legislative reference bureau, prepared the Emerson bill.

"If the state is to keep faith with its people and meet the imperative demands for roads," read Gov. Emerson's statement, "the proceeds of a tax of not less than two cents per gallon must go to the state road system. A revenue less than that will raise a retarded program which will satisfy no one."

"If we are to give the counties relief on secondary roads, the proceeds of a one cent tax per gallon will be needed to make a proper showing."

"Both of these needs are imperative and for this reason a tax of three cents a gallon is recommended."

"The bill provides an equitable and fair division of the proceeds of this tax. It meets every issue squarely by setting up definite appropriations for the several purposes. It meets the demands of the state highway system at large, it gives the counties real relief, and it gives the metropolitan area of Chicago and vicinity a square deal since more than one-third of all funds collected during the biennium will be spent or allocated on highways located within approximately thirty miles of the loop district of the great city."

Salvation Army to Hear Gen. Booth's Case Friday
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]
LONDON, Feb. 5.—The high council of the Salvation Army has officially decided to meet next Friday to hear Gen. Bramwell Booth's representative. An official of the American section of the high council said that there is not the slightest chance of the council altering its decision concerning the unfitness of the general to continue as head of the organization.

COURT CITES ALL LEGISLATORS IN REMAPIING SUIT

Fergus Wins First Step in Redistricting Fight.

Circuit Judge Victor F. Arnold yesterday ordered every state legislator in Illinois to show by what authority he sits in the general assembly. The order was issued on petition of John B. Fergus, octogenarian, who has been fighting for several years to reapportion the state's senatorial districts in accordance with the constitution.

The latest of several legal battles brought by Mr. Fergus is a quo warranto proceeding filed in the name of State's Attorney John A. Swanson. The pleading contends that the present general assembly, as well as every session of legislature since 1910, is illegal and void because the members were elected from districts not remapped in accordance with the latest United States census as the state constitution provides. The last reapportionment was in 1901.

All state senators and representatives must file their answers to the petition by Feb. 15, Judge Arnold ruled.

"We will prove," Attorney Ray H. Lane, representing Mr. Fergus, told the court, "that none of the legislators represents a legal and constitutional district and therefore has no bona fide claim to his seat with the possible exception of John A. Griffin of Chicago, who was elected in 1909 and who might be claimed as a hold-over."

"In 1909," the lawyer continued, calling attention to the inequality of the present situation, "the 19th district had increased 114,970 in population."

or an increase of 192 per cent over the population of 1901, the last reapportionment. At the same time the 19th district had decreased 25,021, or 23 per cent, in population.

"The people of the state of Illinois are guaranteed by constitution a republican form of government. This guarantee is denied them by the members of the legislature in refusing to reapportion the state."

QUEST TO SECURE BY SENATOR.
State's Attorney, John A. Swanson, said at the Leland hotel yesterday that he would ask the court to appoint a committee to investigate the matter.

Why not a Henrici luncheon today?

People are of varying tastes and inclinations—some there are to whom the little niceties which make life pleasant to others are matters of total indifference.

And so there are in this more or less haphazard world all sorts of institutions similar in kind but varying widely in the degrees to which they observe the requirements of discriminating preference.

And nowhere is this more evident than among restaurants, as you may well see by just a little observation of the many sorts of establishments which seem to please many sorts of people.

Henrici's is operated for the satisfaction of patrons whose chief distinguishing quality, as restaurant patrons, is, no doubt, that they discriminate with considerable particularity in the matter of food and its service.

Really, you would find a luncheon at Henrici's today very much to your liking and the prices no more than you would pay anywhere else for foods of equal quality and quantity.

SENATE PASSES 15 CRUISER BILL BY 68 TO 12 VOTE

Routs Pacifist Lobby and Defies Coolidge.

The fact that God is above all nations. We are a Christian people and revere God and rightly do we refuse to put even the flag of our country above the emblem of God."

"I revere and worship God," retorted Hefflin, whose redheaded features stood out in marked contrast to his broad expanse of white waistcoat. "I revere God and when we provide that the flag of our country shall not be seen below the Roman pennant, I don't think that's showing irreverence to God."

"It's not the Roman flag," snapped Senator Gerry, whose state is largely Roman Catholic. "The cross is a St. George's cross, taken from the British navy."

Then Hefflin and Bruce became engaged in an angry altercation, the very Alabama shouting that he had predicted the defeat of the Maryland senator.

"The people have given and the people have taken away, blessed be the name of the people," Hefflin paraphrased scripture.

"New your true moral quality comes out," Bruce angrily retorted with reference to the fact that Hefflin had been given time, with the consent of Bruce, to reply to attacks on his amendment.

Presiding Officer Intervenes. Thereupon Senator George H. Moses [Rep., N. H.], who was presiding, was compelled to interpose and read the senate rule forbidding a senator to reflect upon the character of another senator.

Senator Borah also took a hand, saying that while the Hefflin amendment was not objectionable, the debate was and for that reason he would vote against the Hefflin proposal.

"I should like to observe," said Senator Millard E. Tydings [Dem., Md.], "that I am a member of the American Legion and in the late unpleasantness occupied a small position where men fought with guns and not with words. It became my good fortune to command a group of men 85 per cent of whom were Catholics, and 25 per cent of whom were casualties in that conflict."

Lights Into Night. "Every one in this body knows that in spite of that contribution and the contribution of all Catholics in all the wars of our country, there is behind this amendment all the debate of last spring, when the subject was brought before the attention of the country by a member of this body; and it was charged at that time that this emblem

THE DAY IN CONGRESS

SENATE

The Cruiser bill was passed by a vote of 68 to 12 with the time clause objected to by President Coolidge included.

The Caraway bill, restricting trading in grain and cotton futures on exchanges was made the unfinished business.

Senate and house conference on the deficiency appropriation bill were hopelessly deadlocked because of the $24,000,000 additional fund for prohibition enforcement.

General debate on the naval appropriation bill was continued.

Increased duties on hemp and flax were asked before the house ways and means committee.

Indications were that a bill to lease Muscle Shoals to the American Cyanamid company would be reported favorably from the house committee on military affairs.

was the emblem of the Catholic church.

"It is not the emblem of the Catholic church. It is no part of the emblem of the Catholic church, unless the cross on which the Divine Savior was crucified is itself an emblem of the Catholic church."

"I am not a Catholic. I have no Catholic relatives of whom I know; but I am ready as a Protestant to stand here and demand that that religion be not vilified, be not insulted, and that those who inherited the faith at their mother's knee shall have the same right to practice their religion in this country as any one else."

David Reed Takes Hand.

"It is my impression that since the debate that has occurred here today, the people of every one of the 48 states would disapprove this amendment," Senator David A. Reed [Rep., Pa.] interrupted.

"I should certainly hope so," said Senator Tydings, "because, in my humble judgment, if this amendment were adopted it would practically serve notice on the entire country that religious intolerance had been the motive in this body—a reflection which the senate of the United States cannot look upon with favor."

"I am tired of this so-called 'Christian' element that would crucify his fellow man for a tenet of his faith. There is no love in that kind of Christianity. It springs from hatred, and is as anti-Christian as anything which can be conceived. It is the work of an ignorant brain."

"If ever the day should come when the men who wear the night gowns send me orders and dictate my vote, I hope the people will take me from this body, because I should no longer care to serve as a member of it."

"Under our constitution every man has the right to make a damn fool out of himself whenever he sees fit. If hope we will settle this question today and now for all time. I hope we will put our God ahead of our country. If that be unpatriotic, then make the most of it."

Nine Vote with Hefflin.

In addition to Hefflin, those who stood for his amendment were Black [Dem., Ala.], Brookhart [Rep., Ia.], Hale [Rep., Me.], Harris [Dem., Ga.], Mayfield [Dem., Tex.], Shepard [Dem., Tex.], Swanson [Dem., Va.], Thomas [Dem., Okla.], and Trammell [Dem., Fla.].

Earlier in the day the senate adopted the Borah amendment declaring for the freedom of the seas as revised at the instance of Senator James A. Reed [Dem., Mo.]. This amendment declares "that the congress favors a treaty or treaties with all the principal maritime nations regulating the conduct of belligerents and neutrals in war at sea, including the inviolability of private property thereon," and that "such treaties be negotiated, if practically possible, prior to the meeting of the conference on the limitation of armaments in 1921."

"Unless we can come to an understanding between nations as to the legal use of the sea," said Senator Borah, "there is no such thing, in my opinion, as naval disarmament. I go further, and express the view that not only is there no such thing in the future as naval disarmament or the reduction of naval armaments, but it will undoubtedly lead to a comparative naval race. I can see no other alternative."

Peace Is Earnest Desire.

"It is, therefore, the desire of the proponents of this measure that we exhaust every means at hand to come to an understanding which will remove the controversy which are calculated to bring on building, and ultimately, perhaps, something much worse than building."

"I think, Mr. President, if I know myself, that I am thoroughly in favor of protecting American commerce; but I am in favor of protecting it, in so far as we can, through peaceful means, under legal procedure, and without the employment of naval instruments for protection."

"As I see the future, I can see no controversy arising between this country and Great Britain or any other naval power save a controversy which would arise over the use of our ships in time of war. I do not believe, as I said a few days ago, that Great Britain has any purpose of attacking the United States or seeking a quarrel with the United States. I am quite sure the United States has no intent of seeking a quarrel with Great Britain."

"But if a war breaks out anywhere, and our tremendous commerce is imperiled, and our interests are in jeopardy, it creates a state of war in the mind of the nation, whether in actuality or not, and the result is that we proceed from one step to another, with the controversy unswayed, and under such circumstances no one can foretell what the ultimate result will be."

"I have very little confidence in treaties, very little confidence in peace plans, operating and working actively after war actually breaks, but I do believe that through these means we may make it far more improbable that war will come, and it seems to me that if we can have an understanding among the nations as to the use of the sea, there will be removed, psychologically and in fact, a condition which is calculated to bring on conflict."

An amendment by Senator Hiram Bingham [Rep., Conn.] proposing three airplane carriers instead of one was defeated by a viva voce vote.

Only nine votes were cast for an amendment by Senator Norris to suspend construction of the cruisers during negotiations with Great Britain for an agreement limiting cruiser strength of the American and British navies. The bill provides for the suspension of construction if an agreement on limitation should be reached with other nations, but Norris sought suspension during the negotiations, in advance of an agreement which might never be reached.

COLLEGE BANDIT GANG EXPOSED BY CONFESSION

Stole to Finance Campus
Love Affairs.

Chicagopolis, Ill., Feb. 5.—[Special.]—David Hamamoto, 24 year old Hawaiian student at Knox college, arrested in connection with the recent $5,000 robbery of the Steinfeld Jewelry store here, the looting of the Lombard college safe, and robbery of the Baird Drug store, a postoffice sub-station, admitted complete confession today and implicated Winfield Scott, Knox senior, as his partner in the burglaries. According to his confession, Mrs. Joe Jacoby of this city and Scott's brother Clarence, a student at the University of Missouri, knew of the thefts and received some of the loot. Police recovered jewelry stolen from the Steinfeld store when they found Mrs. Jacoby in Burlington, Ia. A bag of loot from the drug store was found in Clarence Scott's room at Columbia, Mo.

Brother Now in Prison.
Winfield Scott, who roomed with the Hawaiian until he left here after the Christmas holidays, was arrested in Quincy a few weeks ago while attempting to rob a jewelry store there. He was sentenced to serve from one year to life in Chester penitentiary on that charge and is now in prison.

In the Lombard robbery the college safe was rifled of papers valuable only to school authorities, and about $100 in cash. The Hawaiian's confession said scholarship records stolen from Lombard, where Clarence Scott was formerly a student, were altered and forwarded to the University of Missouri as a senior instead of a junior, the confession said.

He Many Girls, He Says.
The high cost of outside love affairs while attempting to keep up with the college social events prompted the robbery, Hamamoto said. He told officers he sent part of his share of the loot to a girl in Los Angeles, and also gave some to a woman in Galesburg, Mo. He declared provided Mrs. Jacoby with jewelry and cash. Scott was recently named co-respondent in a divorce suit filed by Jacoby.

SEIZE SLOT MACHINES.
County highway police in a series of raids on southern and western suburbs Monday seized more than 50 slot machines.

TELLS CHICAGO NEED FOR MORE AIR FACILITIES

The need for greater airport facilities for handling air transportation in Chicago was stressed yesterday by H. Wallace Caldwell, president of the board of education, in an address to members of the Chicago aviation post of the American Legion.

Mr. Caldwell, who was a flyer during the world war and is a member of the post, assured the aviators that the school trustees favor trading the school land at 63d street and Cicero avenue, which is the site of the Municipal airport, for city property at Clarendon beach. Such a transaction would make more land available for the airport. Legislation to enable the board, legally to make the transfer will be considered at the present session of the state legislature, Mr. Caldwell said.

Airplane ambulances will be manufactured shortly by the Henney Motor company of Freeport, Ill., in conjunction with the Great Lakes Aircraft corporation of Cleveland, according to John W. Henney, president of the Freeport concern, who came to Chicago yesterday on business. The planes are to be used in making long emergency trips from small towns to medical centers, he said.

5 YEARS FOR PLEA TO HALF MILLION CHURCH THEFT

"Million Dollar Crook"
Sentenced at Atlanta.

Atlanta, Ga., Feb. 5.—[Special.]—Clinton S. Carnes, who was called a "million dollar crook" by Solicitor General John A. Boyken soon after he mysteriously disappeared from Atlanta last August, and who subsequently was indicted on twenty charges of embezzlement, pleaded guilty today and received a five year term. His plea was to one indictment charging theft of $50,000.

Before Judge Virlyn Moore in Fulton Superior court it was stipulated that if a plea for parole is made before Carnes serves the full five years he will be tried on other indictments. The sentence read five to seven years, but Carnes can be released after serving the minimum period under the Georgia law.

Carnes, former treasurer of the Baptist home mission board, disappeared on Aug. 15, 1923, and was arrested on Sept. 28 in Winnipeg, Can. He waived extradition and has been in jail here since. Soon after Carnes left the city and newspapers were asked to help search for him; the home mission board announced he was short $1,000,000, but later the indictment alleged he had taken upward of $500,000.

Solicitor Boyken, explaining the purpose of the state in permitting Carnes to enter his plea, stated that the former treasurer had made a blanket conveyance of all his property and all that he may hereafter possess to the home mission board.

Striking Pupils Go Back to Their Original School

Thirty-two pupils of the Lewis elementary school, 1431 North Leanington avenue, who have been truant for a day and a half with the approval of their mothers, returned to the school yesterday in a body. Many of the children were accompanied by their mothers, who had protested against a recent order of the educational department transferring them to the Ella Flagg Young school at 1434 North Parkside avenue. They returned after they had been assured by Assistant Superintendent Charles J. Lunak that the transfer order was not mandatory.

EXAMINATION TO PICK 250 NEW POLICEMEN WILL START MONDAY

Examination of the 255 men now upon the eligible list for positions on the police force will begin Monday morning. Commissioner of Police William F. Russell announced yesterday. A requisition for the 255 men authorized by the council last week, was sent to the civil service commission. The candidates, among whom are a number of former policemen who have been reinstated, will appear in room 1004 of the city hall where they will be given a physical examination by the police physician, Dr. Elmer Mosely. After they have been sent to the bureau of identification, they will be trained in the police training school for a month by Mal. John Bauder, drillmaster of the department.

"We expect to have the preliminary finished so that the new men can start in the police school at the Fillmore street station by Wednesday of next week," Commissioner Russell said. "They will be examined carefully and given ample instructions in the duties of policemen."

Another eligible list will be prepared by the civil service commission by calling in 1,000 men who have filed applications for examination. This will take care of the 500 men who will be put on July 1.

COOK COUNTY TAXING BODIES FACE INQUIRY

Springfield, Ill., Feb. 5.—[Special.]—Plans for a comprehensive investigation by the legislature into the fairness of the tax rates of the various taxing bodies in Cook county, advanced a step this afternoon, when the house revenue committee reported out with approval the resolution of Representative William F. Thon.

The Thon measure calls for the appointment of a joint senate and house committee of fourteen to make a study of the multiple tax system with a view to decreasing the aggregate amount of taxes by decreasing the number of taxing bodies or more equitably distributing the rates. The committee would be empowered to subpoena city, county, park board and sanitary district officials and to inspect budgets.

Several county officials including Commissioners Harry Newby and Emmett Whealen, appeared before the committee in behalf of the measure. The three Chicago tax revaluation bills to remove the obstacles to reassessment, already passed by the house, were sent to third reading by the senate this evening. They are expected to be passed by the upper house and sent to Gov. Emmerson tomorrow.

BRITISH SEE U. S. SENATE VOTE AS REPLY TO LONDON

(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)
LONDON, Feb. 5.—[Wednesday.]—The London Daily Chronicle comments on the passage by the American senate of the navy bill including the "time limit" clause.

"This decision, taken against the wish of President Calvin Coolidge, is all the more remarkable in that so many of Mr. Coolidge's own party have contributed to the result. It serves to reveal the state of mind which has developed in America as a natural reaction to the attitude of the Baldwin government. The fatuousness of the old fashioned view adopted by the Baldwin government and reiterated a few days ago by the first lord of the admiralty, W. C. Bridgeman—'We must build ship for ship according to the rate of other countries'—has been sufficiently shown by the American senate's reply. 'The United States never would have listened to the more truculent voices in their midst if our government had not adopted the outworn principle of naval rivalry at the Geneva conference, and if again and again—most notably in the Anglo-French compromise—it had not revealed in its foreign policy the old leaning to the method of alliances and competition between groups of powers. The mass of the British nation dislikes the idea of an armament race against America. Such a race, if once begun, will lead to our economic ruin, for America has by far the longer purse."

High School Boy Fined for Violating Quarantine

Charged with violating a diphtheria quarantine, Frank Parpa, 15 year old student of Crane Technical High school, was fined $25 yesterday by Magistrate James M. Peron in Oak Park police court. While Frank's younger brother had diphtheria at his home at 1116 South Austin avenue, the older boy was attending school, according to Health Commissioner Frank S. Needham of Oak Park.

BOMBAY IN PANIC; BRITISH TROOPS BATTLE RIOTERS

(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)
BOMBAY, Feb. 4.—[Wednesday.]—Panic still reigns in the city of Bombay, after another day of bloodshed and rioting, following Monday's clashes between the Pathans and Hindus. Late last night the situation was charged with the gravest possibilities. Rioting was taking place in the streets at 1 a. m. British troops and armed police were engaged in the fray. British Police Inspector Priestley died in a hospital after a clash with Pathans. The day's rioting brought the casualties to 39 dead and more than 100 injured. Many were reported to be dying. All the mills are shut and excited mobs of workers are parading the streets shouting "Victory for the Red flag!" Business in a wide area is totally paralyzed. Three hundred fleeing Pathans found refuge in Bombay's largest mosque, Jumma Masjid.

SOUTHERN DRYS PLAN FOR FIGHT FOR 24 MILLION

Refuse to Admit Loss of Great Fund.

(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)
Washington, D. C., Feb. 5.—(Special.)—Southern Democrats in both houses squared off today for a new fight to force an additional appropriation of $24,000,000 for Volstead enforcement. All hope of breaking the conference committee deadlock over the senate's dry fund rider to the deficiency supply bill was abandoned and it was admitted that the bill will be allowed to die.

As soon as it became apparent after the conference committee met today that an agreement could not be reached on the dry fund, house leaders made plans to include all of the more urgent appropriations in a second deficiency bill pending before the house appropriations committee.

Harris Prepares to Fight.
The southern drys announced they have just begun to fight and Senator W. J. Harris (Dem., Ga.), author of the $24,000,000 amendment, declared he would offer the same proposal as an amendment to every appropriation bill still to come before the senate.

"We will make every effort to have the $24,000,000 fund set aside by this congress," asserted the Georgia senator, who, it has been charged, sought when he first introduced the amendment, to demonstrate to dry constituents that he is still an ardent prohibitionist in spite of his activities in behalf of Gov. Smith during the recent presidential campaign.

Conference Breaks Up.
The conference committee broke up today without setting any date for another meeting. Representatives W. R. Wood (Rep., Ind.), acting chairman of the appropriations committee, and L. C. Cranston (Rep., Mich.), one of the three house conferees, refused to consider acceptance of the $24,000,000 amendment in the face of the house action requiring the bill to conference without instructions by a vote of 240 to 141.

The senate conferees were equally adamant in their refusal to concede from insistence upon the amendment which the senate adopted by a vote of 64 to 27.

COOLIDGE SIGNS CHICAGO WORLD FAIR RESOLUTION

Washington, D. C., Feb. 5.—(Special.)—President Coolidge today signed the joint resolution extending federal government recognition to the projected Chicago Centennial celebration in 1933.

Rufus C. Dawes, president of the Centennial corporation, was advised of the presidential action in a telegram signed by Vice President Dawes, Senator C. S. Deneen (Rep., Ill.), Senator Otis F. Glenn (Rep., Ill.), and Representative Carl Chidholm (Rep., Ill.).

"We have the honor and satisfaction," the telegram read, "of notifying you that the President has signed house joint resolution 365, the Chicago World's Fair measure."

The resolution not only authorizes the President to invite the participation of foreign nations in the exposition, but provides as well for suitable representation of the federal government. Under the terms of the measure the President will extend the invitations to other countries when a sum of not less than five million dollars has been raised and is available for the Centennial corporation.

BRITISH PLANES BOMB TRIBESMEN WHO KILLED YANK

JERUSALEM, Feb. 5.—(AP)—Advices reaching here today said that tribesmen responsible for the recent raid in Koweit territory, during which the Rev. Henry A. Bilkert, American missionary, was murdered, have been severely bombed by the British air force.

Eighty-five camel riders of the Mutair tribe were killed by bombs thrown from the planes. It has been established, it was said, that the Mutair tribe, together with the Ateelah and Harab tribes, were the murderers of Mr. Bilkert.

Mr. Bilkert was shot and killed by bandits while motoring with Charles E. Crane of Chicago, former American minister to China, who escaped unscathed as a chauffeur drove off under a hail of bullets.

Asphyxiated in Garage by Gas from Automobile

COURT IS TOLD ALD. HAFKA'S CODE OF ETHICS

He Applies It in Rum
Trade, Agents Say.

agent said, because Haffa brought up the question of booze and both Conwell and Donahue told him they thought it would be better for their purposes to become partners in a liquor enterprise.

Offered Still for $10,000.
So Agent Conwell talked seriously about entering into the liquor partnership with Haffa and his crowd. "The president of our company, Joseph Bagheria (who is also on trial), wouldn't sell out for fifty grand," Conwell said Haffa told him. "But we could sell you a still for $10,000 unexcused. The erection could be done by two of our boys who are not working now, and you can buy unexcused moonshine and redistill it. It costs us $1 or a little more per gallon to manufacture our alcohol, and we sell it for from $4 to $9 per gallon. It's velvet."

The transaction was not completed, but Conwell had several more conversations with Haffa. Once the alderman was complaining of a certain police captain.

"I'm going to have him removed as soon as State's Attorney Bob Crowe gets well," Haffa said, according to Conwell. Captain Tom Condon of Hudson avenue was the policeman, it was learned.

Tell of Buying Liquor.
Off and on during their acquaintanceship with the Haffa crowd, both Conwell and Donahue testified, they bought alcohol, whisky, beer and wine from various members. Yesterday these purchases were heaped high on a table in Judge Lindley's court room.

While the agents were on the stand, First Assistant United States District Attorney John E. Northrup picked up bottles of the stuff from time to time and showed it to his witnesses.

"I ask you whether or not you have seen this liquor before?" Northrup questioned. Always the answer was the same, from either agent: "Yes, sir, this is part of the liquor we bought from Sam Simon on —"

Then followed the date of the purchase. Or maybe the liquor was purchased from Bagheria, or Albert F. Bauer, former Lincoln park commissioner, who Monday entered a plea of guilty to the conspiracy. There were twenty-nine 5 gallon cans of alcohol, and fifteen cases of various whiskeys and brandies piled on the table.

Today Special Intelligence Agents Patrick T. Roche and Clarence Converse of the Chicago unit will take the stand and corroborate the testimony of Conwell and Donahue. Conwell and Donahue both wanted some assurance of protection when they were thinking seriously of going into business with the Haffa crowd.

"We ought to have some stars for our automobiles," they told the alderman.

"All right," Haffa was quoted as telling them, "I'll get you some." He did, Conwell said, bringing the stars, which read "Official, City of Chicago," to the Republican Boosters club, 1423 Larrabee street. There the stars were provided with standards for affixing them to the cars and the agents were charged $10 for their emblems of authority.

Besides Haffa, Bagheria, Simons, and Murray, Edward Hug, said to have been the still expert of the crowd, is also on trial. The case will probably continue throughout Thursday and Friday.

Daniel F. O'Hearn Made Principal at Englewood

Daniel F. O'Hearn, teacher and principal in the Chicago public school system for 29 years, has been appointed to fill the vacancy left by the retirement of James Armstrong from the principalship of the Englewood High school. It was announced yesterday by Supt. William J. Hogan. Mr. O'Hearn's latest post was that of principal of the Westcott Junior High school. During the last semester he has acted as principal of the Englewood Evening school.

DR. KEGEL PUTS BRAKES ON CITY'S MILK PRICE FIGHT

No Immediate Danger of Increase, He Says.

By FRANK RIDGWAY.

Health Commissioner Kegel decided today, after a conference with distributors, that there is no immediate danger of an increase in milk price to the consumers, so there was a slackening in official activity over the milk marketing situation. City officials have been dissatisfied with the milk marketing settlement effected by Dr. Clyde L. King, Philadelphia arbitrator, and an official movement is under way to protect the interests of the consumers.

Dr. King was called in as arbitrator recently when the dairy farmers refused to deliver any more milk to the distributors unless they were paid $1.15 a hundred pounds for their milk. They had been receiving $2.50. Dr. King fixed the compromise price at $1.15.

"As long as the present adjustment between the farmers and the distributors continues," said Dr. Kegel, "milk will retail at the present price of 14 cents a quart. But any further

TRIBUNE IS PREPARED TO HELP PUBLIC WITH INCOME TAX RETURNS

For the tenth consecutive year the Public Service office of THE TRIBUNE, at 1 South Dearborn street, is again prepared to assist the public in making out 1928 income tax returns. L. M. Schuessler, deputy collector of internal revenue, is stationed in the office and has a corps of assistants to help him.

The office is equipped to take care of all details of income tax returns and will accept checks or money orders for forwarding to Mrs. Mabel G. Reinecke, collector of internal revenue. No cash will be taken.

In past years the office has served as many as 15,000 persons during the filing period. All employees of the office are notary publics, and notary service is free. The office will be open from 9 a. m. to 5 p. m.

disturbance in the market situation cannot be absorbed in any other way except by passing it on to the consumer.

Dr. Kegel then pointed out that the present price arrangement has a time limit of three months, and therefore there may be another marketing disturbance which might affect the retail price about the first of April.

"The special aldermanic milk committee met yesterday and adopted a motion directing Dr. Kegel to go ahead with his investigation. At the committee session Ald. Leonard Greenman made an attack on Dr. King and his work here.

SIDI SPRECKELS' PRINCE IS SILENT ON REPATRIATION

Prince Suid Chakir, Turkish nobleman, and former husband of Mrs. Sidi Wirt Spreckels, wealthy Californian, reserved comment yesterday when informed his one-time princess had succeeded in regaining her American citizenship which she forfeited in 1923 when she became Prince Suid's wife. The prince likewise was reticent upon the subject of a possible litigation between the former princess and Tiffany & Co. over $50,000 worth of pearls.

Prince Suid was encountered as he hurried from the Hamilton club after lunching with a friend. He is "merely visiting" here, he declared, although he presented the appearance of a business man and a bulky brief case was tucked under his arm. The prince divorced Mrs. Spreckels two years ago, charging she refused to live in his country.

57th ANNIVERSARY FESTIVAL

Confidence of the Public Is Invaluable to a Business

This store started in Chicago 57 years ago, and it probably was one of the smallest stores in the city. Many food stores had the same opportunity, but this store outstripped them all.

It was not by magic (people know that doesn't exist). It was not by deception (for that doesn't stand the scrutiny of time). It wasn't by sharpness or a wonderful trading instinct (because that doesn't breed confidence).

And CONFIDENCE, when all is said and done, is the paramount factor that weathers the stress of time and gives permanence to the things that be.

This store could not be built up to where it is by doing things as others did them. It had to do them better.

DEALER INSISTS DA VINCI CANVAS IS NOT GENUINE

$500,000 Art Slander
Suit Opens in N. Y.

BY TOM PETTEY.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]
New York, Feb. 5.—[Special.]—A $500,000 slander suit, unique in the history of American jurisprudence, got under way here today in Supreme court. It concerns a woman, a painting and an internationally famous art dealer. The woman is Mrs. Andrea Lardoux Hahn.

The painting, owned by Mrs. Hahn, is "La Belle Ferroniere" (The Blacksmith's Daughter), said to be an addition to the eighth known studies by Leonardo da Vinci.

The art dealer is Sir Joseph Duveen who publicly expressed doubt of the authenticity of the old master in 1920 and spoiled a sale to the Kansas City art institute.

Before the first and only witness today, Sir Joseph himself, had concluded his initial tilt with attorneys, most of the twelve jurors who are to decide whether the painting was done by Leonardo or somebody else were scratching their puzzled heads, for they were listening to a strange language. For the most part the jury is made up of a ladies' underwear manufacturer, an upholsterer, a shirt maker, a hotel clerk, several agents, and an accountant. One man who confessed he had "visited a museum" was excused, but two artists later won a place in the jury box.

Sir Joseph on Stand.
Sir Joseph, introduced as the "king of his calling who enjoys a worldwide strangle hold on the sale of art," took the chair with a shrug and a wry smile. Mrs. Hahn dressed in brown sat with her husband, Harry J. Hahn, to whom she was married in Chicago during the world war. She charges that Sir Joseph "recklessly, if not maliciously, interfered with the sale of the picture for $500,000 and made a subsequent sale impossible by giving a newspaper interview expressing the opinion the picture was a copy."

Sir Joseph testified it was ridiculous to believe that a genuine Leonardo da Vinci could be in the hands of a private individual when all of the eight known paintings are in European galleries.

"If the painting were authentic," said Sir Joseph, "it would be worth a great deal more than the $500,000 at which Mrs. Hahn valued it. It could be sold for three or four million dollars."

CHARGE INSULT TO PRINCE IN ROW IN PARLIAMENT

Query on Jobless Miners Angers Laborites.

BY JOHN STEELE.
(Chicago Tribune Press Staffer.)
LONDON, Feb. 5.—Extraordinary disorder occurred in the house of commons this afternoon when Laborites accused the Conservatives of insulting the prince of Wales and demanded an apology to both the prince and the miners, who had been attacked by the Conservatives.

The incident arose out of a seemingly innocent question by Col. Howard Bury, Conservative, who asked if it was a fact that the 2,000 miners needed to reopen a pit in South Wales were not obtainable. This charge was made in the Tory newspaper, the Morning Post.

Laborites Cry Insult.
Instantly the house was in an uproar. A dozen Laborites rose and shouted that this was a premeditated insult to the unemployed miners and demanded its withdrawal.
Above all other voices David Kirkwood, leader of the Clydeside, Reds, was heard declaring Col. Bury had insulted the heir to the throne in referring to the prince's recent trip to the mining districts and his expressions of sympathy for the suffering miners.

Churchill Halts Uproar.
Winston Churchill, chancellor of the exchequer, tried to intervene, saying the best way to settle the question was for the Laborites to put the question up to the minister of mines, who would answer it on the basis of ascertained facts tomorrow. The Laborites objected until, finally J. H. Clymes, acting leader of the Labor party, demanded the question be put to the minister of mines, who would consult with representatives of the miners. This assurance was given and the uproar subsided.

CZECHS ORDERED TO PAY DUKE FOR SEIZED PROPERTY

PRAGUE, Czechoslovakia, Feb. 5.—(AP)—Advises received today from The Hague state that the Czechoslovak mixed arbitral tribunal has decided that Czechoslovakia must compensate Archduke Friedrich of Hungary, former field marshal in the Austro-Hungarian army, as well as hundreds of other Hungarians whose property was confiscated by Czechoslovakia after the peace treaties.

Friedrich, who is a cousin of the late Emperor Franz Josef and the wealthiest man in Hungary, began suit several months ago against Italy, Roumania, Spain, Yugoslavia, Czechoslovakia and Poland for recovery of castles, estates, paintings and other valuable property estimated to be worth hundreds of millions of dollars, which was sequestered by the succession states.

Today's decision represents the first victory in these suits, but it is certain that not only Czechoslovakia but all other succession states will contest the Hungarians' right to compensation.

JAPAN CABINET MUST FACE VOTE OF CONFIDENCE

TOKIO, Feb. 5.—(AP)—The Minto, or opposition party, today presented a motion of no-confidence in the Tanaka government. The motion was introduced at a plenary session of the lower house.
A vote probably will be taken on Feb. 9, but it is generally believed that the government will be able to muster sufficient votes to defeat it.
The text of the motion summarizes alleged diplomatic, domestic and administrative failures. It says that the government should resign, holding it responsible for "the unpardonable and vexatious state of administration."
After the motion had been presented the question of granting the rights of citizenship to women was put forward. To this the government replied briefly that it considered "the proposition right and proper but a little premature to enforce at present."

Clean Kidneys by Drinking Lots of Water

Eating too much rich food may produce kidney trouble in some form, says a well known authority, because the acids created by the kidneys. Then they become overworked, get sluggish, clog up and cause all sorts of distress, particularly backache and misery in the kidney region, rheumatic twinges, severe headaches, acid stomach, constipation, torpid liver, sleeplessness, and bladder irritation.
The moment your back hurts or if kidneys aren't acting right, or if bladder bothers you, begin drinking lots of good water and also get about four ounces of Baume Bengue from any good pharmacy; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys may then act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for years to flush clogged kidneys and stimulate them to activity; also to neutralize the acids in the system so that they no longer irritate, thus often relieving bladder disorders.
Kid salts cannot injure any one; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which millions of men and women take now and then to help keep the kidneys and urinary organs clean, thus often avoiding serious kidney disorders.

Rheumatics Are Wild with Joy

Nothing has so startled the community as the effect of Nurotic, a physician's prescription for rheumatism, neuritis, neuralgia, sciatica and lumbago. Many won't believe such a thing possible as almost instant relief in even bed-ridden cases of contracting pain. They say it must be a narcotic. But it isn't anything of that sort, and to prove it, get the regular package and try it as directed, and if it doesn't prove almost a miracle in driving away pain with two or three doses, Liggett's will refund the price you paid for it. ## THE MICHIGAN FRENZY.

Gov. Green of Michigan, as a civilized man, has asked for modification of the state's savage liquor law under which punishment must be life imprisonment on the fourth conviction. He recommends that no life sentence shall be imposed unless the fourth offense shall be of such a criminal nature that it would itself have a maximum penalty of at least five years imprisonment. The prohibition response to this was the introduction of a bill amending the state prohibition law to provide a maximum penalty of five years imprisonment for violations of it.

R. N. Holmstrom, state superintendent of the Anti-Saloon league, told the governor that the league would insist on standing pat for life imprisonment. It would not permit the criminal code to be amended in this respect but it would demand the five year imprisonment amendment. The governor replied that he and the league would go then by different roads.

The Anti-Saloon league and its supporters have an almost homicidal mania. It is a malignancy which would get its most satisfactory expression with ritualistic dancing, tom-tom beating and wild yelling about night fires in a jungle with a victim tied to a stake. Zealotry has become a disease with appetites appeased only by cruelty and savagery. It is apparent that the zealots are not interested in the enforcement of their law but in the catching of a sufficient number of obscure and ignorant victims for the sacrificial rites.

Michigan has one of the great ports for the import of Canadian liquor. The volume of that business increases year by year. Detroit is recognized by federal officials as the gateway for whiskey and ale running into the midwest. If Holmstrom and his associates were interested in the enforcement of prohibition they would be too busy to pay any attention to the petty cases of plums, of possession or selling, which have made the state notorious. They seek personal satisfaction by offering an occasional victim to their foes.

They have the frenzy of a religious mob chasing a victim up the alley. No civilized people would indulge in these excesses and the fact that the prohibitionists demand them, although they are indifferent to the major violations of their law, reveals their character.

They have the same moral and mental composition as Charles V. or Torquemada or Cotton Mather. They are distorted by their fury.

Gov. Green distinguished himself when he had them shown the door.

THE TENNIS SHAM.

The California Lawn Tennis association exacted the net proceeds as its price for permitting Helen Wills to play in Detroit last September. The Detroit club was willing to pay the expenses of Miss Wills and her mother, whatever they should prove to be, but the California association, which is managing Miss Wills' tour, said it would be 50 per cent or no appearance. The 50 per cent amounted to $1,750, roughly a thousand dollars more than a liberal estimate of the expenses of the two women.

The facts were brought out at the meeting of the Western Lawn Tennis association in Chicago last week. That meeting ran true to the pattern of tennis congresses. The delegates gathered under the banner of pure amateur sport, and by the time they left the banner was on the ground in tatters.

The California association has as its president Dr. Sumner Hardy, the same Dr. Hardy who brought charges of commercialism against Big Tilden. He accused Tilden of writing pieces for the papers, and thereby ruling himself out of the amateur class. The evidence from Detroit leaves little doubt that the association which Dr. Hardy heads is willing to make money from tennis, although it will not permit Tilden or Miss Wills to do so openly. The idea appears to be that money may be made out of tennis, but not by the young ladies and gentlemen who do the work. All they are entitled to is free meals and clothing, the privilege of living in the best hotels, and the right to follow spring around the world.

Amateur tennis is a business which is ashamed of itself. The young men and women who play tennis devote their lives to it as long as they seek eminence in national and international competition. Tennis amateurs are as professional, in all useful meanings of the word, as any vaudeville singer or concert pianist. They are not supposed to receive pay; the assumption is that they are independently wealthy and have no desire or need for money. They do receive support, although it is not often in cash from the box office, and they do desire and need money. They know and every one else knows that their presence on the court has a cash value, and unless the present rules are changed to conform with the facts, it is certain that some of the box office receipts, in one form or another, will find its way to the players.

The present rules defining the amateur are based upon the British notion that it is degrading to work for a living. This country was founded and made great by men and women who thought otherwise. The effect of the amateur rules is to break down a wholesome American tradition, and to place a premium upon dishonesty and subterfuge.

The sham should be ended. There is no distinction in fact between the amateur and professional in tennis. It may be asking too much of human nature to expect the tennis authorities to do away with the distinction at a stroke, but they can, at least, model their organization upon that of the golfers. The golf world knows amateurs and professionals, but it does not establish rules of amateurism which are certain to be evaded, it does not forbid amateurs to play against professionals, and it does not pretend that professionals are unfit to associate with.

FAST TRAINS IN ENGLAND.

From England comes information of a locomotive speed test which should not be overlooked by American railroad men. The Royal Scot, which in the summer of 1922 achieved a record nonstop run of 400 miles between London and Glasgow, was to be tried for even better performance. The total weight of the load including engine and fifteen cars was to be 545 tons. Behind the engine was to be the dynamometer vehicle, which registers speed, coal consumption, and wind pressure.

In England the railroads have not realized the ultimate in service to their passengers. Since they are selling speed it is their quaint notion that the customers should be given more of it. In America, however, the traffic expert's job is regarded as done. A measure of speed has been reached and the standard set. It takes twenty hours to travel from Chicago to New York in the fastest trains. The run could be made in sixteen hours, but it was recently objected by a Pennsylvania railroad official that an understanding with the New York Central prevents either of the competitive lines from reducing the time from twenty hours. President Atterbury of the Pennsylvania said that there was no demand for better service. That seems strange in view of the popular conception, which is not greatly in error, that the American business man is a hustler while the Englishman is more leisurely. Where there is no great pressure for faster communication, the railroads are energetic in providing it, where there is an impatience with wasted travel hours, the railroads agree to stand by slow schedules.

If America excels England in new methods in commerce, we are far behind in the matter of railroad transportation. The railroads of England are progressive; ours are not.

EVEN MORE ATROCITIES.

The nine best atrocities in Chicago were presented in this column recently only with doubt and some hesitation. Other claimants to the honor were many, and letters from experts and the public generally indicate that more should be recognized. The atrocities as listed were the tin maiden of music south of the Art Institute, the brown doughty in Lincoln park who looks like her henpecked husband, the columns and funeral bier scattered over Grant park, the castled viaduct at the grade separation in Lincoln park, the stone reliefs, all excited, on the pylons of the Michigan boulevard bridge, the undressed Goethe waiting in Lincoln park, the Versailles-Buckingham fountain, excepting always the water, and the Fountain of Time. To this list of dominant atrocities more without doubt should be added.

First is the Chicago Yacht club, still aloft somehow in Belmont harbor. It is a half wrecked craft at best, and with its front porch raised, like an old lady's skirts in winter, it is clearly an atrocity of the first order. Though the history of this clubhouse is not clear, it probably is Capt. Streeter's houseboat somewhat made over. It should be sent at once to Capt. Streeter. Beside the svelte yacht of the harbor, swooping like sea birds down towards the sheltered shore, the clubhouse looks like Mrs. O'Leary's barn just back from a sea voyage.

Second is the gilded woman of Jackson park standing largely by the golf course. She is a hangover from the first World's Fair, and though she had her fitness there among other symbols, she is now a reminder of the girl I left behind me. Miss Hangover should be led quietly into the back parlor and asked there to remain. Unlike the gracious old museum, standing in worn loneliness near by, her restoration should remain in private.

Third is the gray old sea dog Commodore, stalled at the foot of Randolph street, where the Rescuer's train. It was a ship once, and all good ships are beautiful, but the U. S. S. Commodore is a ship no more. The black added bulk like there like a dead whale on the beach, and some one should cut her up for blubber. The traffic swirls and glitters by the dead hull, and the lights glide on foot in the night and flare like tiger's eyes down the boulevard.

But Chicago bores on, and, though atrocities are marked in detail here, the whole of the great town has an iron grandeur and splendor that grows with every year. The towered bulks loom up above the northern slope. It thunders from the blue lake with a deep roar.

BASEBALL AND SCIENCE.

[St. Louis Post-Dispatch.]

The Cardinals have signed as coach a former ball player who once upon a time caught a ball tossed from the top of Washington monument.

The scientists said it could not be done. They used terrifying terms, such as momentum and velocity. They said a ball dropped from that height would not rebound but would bore deep into the earth. The ball players were scared but not convinced. They decided to try it. First they threw a ball to see just what would happen. Instead of drilling just into China the ball bounced back toward the top of the monument. At about 40 feet old gravity stopped the return flight. One theory smashed. Then Mr. Street donned his catcher's mitt, and after several dizzy efforts, finally caught the ball.

Earlier in the annuals the curved ball was the subject of much controversy. Alonso Stagg, the gray Chicago coach, was at that time pitching Yale to monotonous victory. Stagg had all there was in the twisting repository of his day—a plummet-like drop, sweeping curve and all but invisible speed. Famous professors ruled the curve not set. It couldn't be done. Stagg took the big-wigs out to the ball field, set up a couple of stakes longitudinally about three feet apart, and buzzed one through. The ball passed to the right of the first stake, broke in a graceful curve and was caught to the left of the second stake.

"What a trajectory!" gasped a dazed professor.

"What a pippin of a curve!" exclaimed a pop-eyed catcher.

So, the standing reads:

SKIN TROUBLES THAT WE CALL ECZEMA.

The greater part of what is called eczema is occupational dermatitis due to exposure of the skin in connection with the day's work. Some skin specialists say that one-fourth of all skin troubles are due to occupation. This includes psoriasis, scabies and the many other troubles to which the skin is subject. In certain studies three-fourths of all the skin troubles encountered were of this order, but these studies were among people especially subject to occupational poisons. The possibilities of poisoning the skin in the course of the day's work are almost unlimited. Oppenheimer says every trade or occupation leaves its mark on the skin. Some one assembled a list of one hundred and twenty trades, each having one or more trade hazards to the skin. In the process of tanning hides another skin specialist found 26 trades which were liable to damage the skin of the workman.

The first of the occupational skin diseases were the troubles noticed by the excavating certain metallic ores. This was written about nearly four hundred years ago. The dermatitis of salt miners followed soon thereafter. Neaerwoman's eczema was described nearly two hundred years ago. Baker's itch has been known about as long. Among other forms of occupational dermatitis are: farmer's itch, grocer's itch, shoemaker's hand, chimney sweep's blotch, tar spots, among these who work in lubricating oils and dermatitis due to insect powders and to sawdust.

The woman whose occupation is housework does not escape. Dr. R. B. Farmer, from whose writings this material is taken, says, "Alkali soaps are responsible for the largest number of cases of dermatitis obtained from any single source." Keeping the hands long in any greasy water is another fruitful source of trouble. In fact, washing the hands in plain water may cause trouble. Water without the addition of soap is capable of poisoning some skins.

Trying to keep the skin clean may cause trouble. Turpentine is frequently used to dissolve paint on the hands. The solvent may harm the skin more than the paint. In fact, Dr. Farmer says "dirt itself is often a part of skin trouble. Dirty occupations are remarkably free from them."

ALL BABIES FLAT FOOTED.

Mrs. E. J. writes: My baby is almost a year old and has flat feet. Is there anything that can be done for her? This worries me so much, as I was born the same way.

REPLY.
All babies have flat feet. I wonder if your baby is unusually flat footed?

RASH AFTER LAKE BATHING.

Mrs. R. E. G. writes: Some years ago we spent our vacation at a lake. As soon as I would go into the lake I would become covered with white pimples, which would get red and itchy after a while.

Since that summer I always get that rash as soon as my blood gets warm. My whole body becomes covered with it, and I don't know what to do, as the itching is terrible. I have been to two doctors, but the medicines they gave me did not help.

One doctor asked me, after testing my blood if I ate much sweets. I like chocolate or a piece of cake once in a while, but some days I just crave it. I eat vegetables and fruits every day.

Would removal of my tonsils cause this?

2. How can it be cured?

3. What is it called?

It is surely an unpleasant condition. It lasts one to three hours, but some days I get it three times.

REPLY.
1. I don't think so.

2. Diluted carbolic acid is the best skin medicine but use it with care. It is too apt to be absorbed and to cause septicemia.

3. If you can find the cause and avoid it the trouble will cure itself. Certain foods are apt to cause it.

4. The common name is nettle rash. It is a form of urticaria.

SEWERS FOR BELMONT HEIGHTS.

Chicago, Feb. 1.—[Friend of the People].—Will sewers be put in the Belmont Heights district this year?

E. L. N.

The board of local improvements is at work preparing plans for a system of sewers to serve the district known as Belmont Heights or Adams Heights. We expect a public hearing in April. It will be possible to build the sewers this year.

FLAT FULL OF VERMIN.

Chicago, Jan. 31.—[Legal Friend of the People].—A landlady showed an apartment in which we are now living. Before we moved in we asked if there were any bugs, and she said absolutely not. That we could take her word for that. We signed the lease, which states that we are now living on the premises. We also asked about the people below and she misinformed us about them.

We had been living there but two days when we found bedbugs in the clothes closets, bathroom, and living room. The landlady and showed her the bugs on the wall and also kept some for evidence. She acted very much surprised and called the exterminator. They soaked every room so that the odor lasted for two weeks, making sleeping conditions very disagreeable. She promised to have the exterminator every two weeks for the tenants below, but has not had them since. The bugs are still coming up. I told her that I would move out and possibly she could rent the apartment in the spring.

Do I have to live with these disease carriers in the house? M. C. M.

1. Your position would be stronger if a clause against vermin were included in the written lease. It is the ordinary rule that oral representations are superseded by the written lease but as exceptions is made for fraudulent representations and it may be that you could make sufficient proof. 2. We have never heard that these insects carry disease.

ENTOMOLOGY AND MISOGYNY.

This is how a Great Entomologist Came to be a Confirmed Misogynist:

For years he studied the Mygalomorphae And the apt and agile Argemidae Spiders whose airy, arachnoid nests Are looked upon as plain household pests— And he learned that the languorous lady spider Is more aggressive and taller and wider Than is the male; and, when dreams come to her, In spring, and she longs for some one to woo her, She sets about to weave her web— This artful and amorous insect deb, She fashions a shimmering, gossamer funnel That leads to dim, boudoir-like tunnel, Decks it with dewdrops that gleam in the sun, Then lies in wait for the Only One.

He comes, ere long, to the fatal try (Says the Eminent Entomologist), Tripping expectantly down the line, Where the net is spread and the dewdrops shine. With a smile engaging the lady greets him, Bait him and dates him, embraces him... eats him!

Then, with her lover safely inside her, She waits for another gentleman spider.

"And they're all like that," says the Scientist, "They eat their men at the end of the tryst."

Or, Who Killed Old

Man Caldwell? Hey?

Our not-secret-enough passion for detective stories has found us out. Geegee Latimer sprang a new stunt on us the other night and we may not be able to sleep for weeks at the rate we're going. It seems the stunt is to give you all the ingredients of a detective story and then you figure out yourself who did it. For instance, the one we're lying awake nights over now is this:

Old Joseph Caldwell, an invalid, owner of the Chemical Works, lives in the big house (you know) on the hill, with his nephew, Robert Caldwell, and an old Scotch housekeeper. One morning he is found dead in his room, killed by the deadly fumes from a bottle of his own chemicals left uncorked on the mantel. The last person known to have seen him is his secretary, Thomas Wright, who had called the evening before to go over some papers with the old man. Wright left the house at 11:30 p. m. and from then on until the body was found his alibi is perfect.

The nephew had come in about 1 o'clock and gone to the housekeeper's room to ask how his uncle was feeling. On being told that he was well enough to see his secretary, young Caldwell, according to his testimony, went to bed. The old man's will left his property divided equally between his nephew and his secretary, to whom he was devoted. The coroner on examining the room found everything in perfect order, the curtains drawn, and a few dead flies on the window, killed by the same deadly fumes that had killed old Caldwell. The doctor testified that the old man had been dead between five and nine hours when he examined the body at 8 a. m. One of the two young men, both beneficiaries in the will, killed him—but which? The secretary's alibi was perfect after 11:30 p. m. and the nephew's alibi was perfect before 1 a. m. So there you are.

Oh, you worry with it, we gotta sleep. . . .

The Song That Reached My Heart.

R. H. L.: Doc Boland, who writes songs for some of the Lee and Jake's shows, was in the throes of creation when I arrived at his atelier. Draped over his piano, he was hunting elusive tones while funny bits of musical manuscript littered the floor. I knew it would be folly to interrupt him, so I sat quietly listening to the Planets Symphony on the phonograph—until the crescendo of Mars drew unkind words from Doc and he made me stop it.

An hour passed. Suddenly the impassioned composer turned me a face beaming with achievement. "I think I've got it," he cried, "get a load of this!" And, turning once again to the keys, he flicked out a very pretty little melody.

"Conny tune!" I commented. "What are you going to call the song?"

"Song nothin'," yelled Doc. "This ain't gonna be no song. This is the tune for a new auto horn!"

The Duke Gets Sore at the Landlord.

Dick: Whadja ya think of that lousy landlord of ares? On the morning of the 1st he brings over 2 fer rent signs and tells the B. and C. to hang 'em in the front windows. She phones me the dirt an' I tell her to tell the punk to hang 'em on his head. When I gets home the Mama tells me that the year ago has the crust to say that if anybody wanted to see the flat we should show them thru an here's where she was smart for once 'cause she tells him she'd act as guide at the rate of a dollar a week. Yesterday he sends a letter which says if he don't get his rent he's gonna get a deuces sanatorium or something from the court, the rest of the letter shows he's wild so it looks like we're gonna play deuces wild with the nut. The Mama informs me she sint gonna let no strange men in the time the B. and C. got through explaining about the beautiful golden brown huss of the darling little cockroaches, the exquisite plumbing leaks, the beautiful antique sink and the gorgeous view of the garbage pile in the alley, the woman says she's gonna report this place to the Health Dept. an have the landlord sued for 500 bucks. DUKE BAKRAK.

P. S. So the B. and C. made her have a cup of coffee an some cake.

MILK IS NOT going to be raised in price, and we're very glad of that. They talked of putting it up from fourteen cents to fifteen cents a quart. But what we started in to say, Laura, before you so very rudely interrupted us, was that with bootleg hooch at fourteen dollars a quart and milk at fifteen cents a quart, old Bill Dammann said he'd have to give up luxuries and buy only necessities. "But the kids will miss the milk," said Bill.

TOO HARD TO SHAVE

FROM THE TRIBUNE'S COLUMNS

65 YEARS AGO TODAY

FEBRUARY 6, 1858.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill.—Gov. Yates is expected to issue a proclamation reading in part as follows: "It is with feelings of the profoundest satisfaction that I announce the number of men Illinois has contributed to the armies of the Union from the commencement of the rebellion to the present time. Our contingent of volunteers under the President's call were as follows: In 1861, 47,758; in 1862, 32,685; and in 1863, 64,530, a total of 145,073."

CHICAGO.—The 39th Illinois [Tate's Phalanx], war worn veterans, fresh from South Carolina, commanded by Col. J. O. Osborn, arrived home, having regiminated as veterans, and are to enter upon a well-deserved furlough.

WASHINGTON.—News from North Carolina indicates that the rebels have secured an important threatening position between Newbern and Beaufort and have destroyed the gunboat Underwriter. Fortress Monroe sends a dispatch stating that news from Newbern is that the rebels have retired on Kingston and that Newbern is relieved.

CHICAGO.—Lieut. H. B. Merchant, 6th Wisconsin regiment, and Miss Elizabeth Keith of Chicago were married in this city on Feb. 4 by the Rev. W. C. Jackson.

CHICAGO.—The third annual festival of the Chicago and St. Louis railroad was the most magnificent of the season. The dining hall in the Tremont house, temporarily turned into a ballroom, was filled with "fair women and brave men." In the gastronomic line friend Drake, if possible, outdid his usual efforts.

30 YEARS AGO TODAY

FEBRUARY 6, 1893.

MANILA.—The insurgents' attack on the city which was begun on Saturday afternoon continued today (Sunday), although as this cable is sent the fire has almost been suspended. As a result of the battle the native troops have lost many men killed and wounded, while the reported loss to the Americans under Gen. Otis is twenty-two killed and more than 100 wounded. For fourteen hours the insurgents kept up their fire on the American outposts. At all points where the rebels made any attempt at a concerted attack they were quickly repulsed with great loss of life.

WASHINGTON.—Warfare in the Philippines will be forced to a speedy end. President McKinley and his cabinet decided today that inasmuch as the trouble was the choosing of the natives, the American policy must be shaped to meet the emergency. Agoncillo, Aguinaldo's representative in the United States, is a fugitive.

MADRID.—Gen. Rios, Spanish commander in the Philippines, sent this dispatch: "Insurgents violently attacked and captured almost the whole of the American exterior line. The Americans offered a vigorous defense at the exterior barriers, using their artillery as well as the squadron. The warships destroyed and burned Calocan, Pico and several other towns in the neighborhood."

10 YEARS AGO TODAY

FEBRUARY 6, 1913.

ARCHANGEL.—Heavy losses were inflicted on the bolshevik by American forces on Feb. 4 and the enemy was driven back in disorder from the village of Vistayka, on the Vaga.

OMSK.—Two divisions of bolsheviks have been virtually annihilated by Siberian troops under Gen. Gaidar at Kuzum, fifty miles southeast of Perm, an official statement says. The city of Perm is now declared safe from bolshevik attack. People who fled from Perm to Ekaterinburg and other towns are returning.

COPENHAGEN.—German government troops entered Bremen after heavy fighting and occupied the town hall and stock exchange. The Spartacists have retreated to Groepingen. During the bombardment the old Bremen cathedral was damaged.

CHICAGO.—These candidates for mayor in the Feb. 25 primaries had filed petitions when the time for filing expired at midnight: Republican—William Hale Thompson, Harry Olson and Charles E. Merriam; Democratic—Robert M. Sweitzer, Thomas Carey and John Max Hallmeister.

BENNETT'S STUDY OF GANGLAND.

Chicago, Feb. 4.—The telling of the story of the Chicago gangsters has awaited James O'Donnell Bennett. It cannot be told by persons with the notion that the world was made yesterday and will be remade tomorrow. Nor can it be told by those reformers who rely on precept and chart.

Only one who knows the story of remembrance Europe can tell it, and Bennett is steeped in that knowledge. Only one who knows the turbulent stories of Rome, Florence, Venice, Milan, London, Paris, Madrid, Lisbon in the fifteenth, sixteenth, and seventeenth centuries can tell the story of Chicago. For Chicago has been leaping into size and splendor in the last thirty years as those cities did in three centuries.

The revival of Greek and Roman learning plus the discovery of America were the factors that filled Europe's public places with statues and statues and the Spanish main with pirates. More widely spread prosperity, luxury, and prohibition have filled Chicago with beautiful buildings and efficient gangsters.

For the person with the energy to drive and the will to compare, Bennett's stories will be priceless and actually may drive somebody to study the history of cities as lovingly as some men now study

ITALY BEGINS NEW STYLE ELECTIONS CUTS BALLYHOOS

Fascist-Picked List of Candidates.

BY DAVID DARRAH.
[Chicago Tribune From Berlin.]
[Copyright, 1920, By The Chicago Tribune.]
ROME, Feb. 5.—Regional committees throughout Italy, representing thirteen national confederations and syndicates of Fascist workmen and employers and twenty-three benevolent and cultural associations, today began their labors of choosing candidates for the next corporate chamber of deputies.
The names chosen by these regional committees will be further sifted down to 1,000 by the national convention to be held in Rome. This list of 1,000 candidates must be ready for presenting to the grand council by Feb. 15. The council, after considering the list for a week, will pick out 400 names for popular plebiscite.
The Italian electorate has been reduced to 2,440,000 voters. Two-thirds of this number are made up of contributors to various syndicates. The other third is made up of those who pay direct taxes and Catholic priests.
Steps also were taken today by the Fascist government to see that the election period has none of the aspects of a political campaign such as is held in democratic countries. Any campaigning in favor of any individual name is severely forbidden.
A warning was issued to certain schools and universities who had distributed printed circulars calling attention to the special merits of certain schoolmen. This is condemned and declared contrary to the new spirit of Fascism and new Italy. The government emphasizes that it wishes the whole choice to be left in the hands of the syndical committees, and that they remain uninfluenced in any way by electioneering.
This assures that there will be no expression of predilection wishes outside of Fascism, in accordance with the Fascist belief in its totalitarianism.

TRUE BILL NAMES MOTOR COURTESY CARD RACKETEER

Harry Morley, whose latest racket was president of the Illinois Motorcycle Policemen's Benevolent association, and Albert B. Jackson, former motorcycle policeman of Harvey, Ill., were named in true bills voted by the grand jury yesterday. They are charged with obtaining money under false pretenses.
Morley is charged with having issued courtesy cards in exchange for contributions to his organization. The card purported to grant favors to the holders when caught in some vehicle law violation in the county. The cards were to take the place of the stars, which were called in when the "I Gotta Drag Club" was exposed, according to Morley's representations.
Morley was once a Lincoln park policeman.

Takes Gun from Robber; Holds Him for Police

Joseph Mishlove, manager of an Atlantic and Pacific Tea store at 734 South Kedzie avenue, was held up by a robber with a pistol ten minutes before closing time yesterday. As the gunman forced Mishlove to the rear the storekeeper wrestled the weapon from him, threw him to the floor and held him there while a customer summoned the police.

REPORT AFGHAN THRONE RIVALS AGREE ON PEACE

Refugees Describe Capital as No Man's Land.

[Chicago Tribune From Service.]
ALLAHABAD, India, Feb. 5.—Two Vickers Victoria airplanes which flew to Kabul, Afghanistan, on Sunday returned to Peshawar today, bringing twenty-one foreigners from the war-torn country. The refugees described the Afghan capital as no man's land. The latest turn of kaleidoscopic events in Afghanistan is a rumor of a peaceful agreement between Ghazi Habibullah Khan, the water boy who made himself ruler, and Ali Ahmad Jan, the latest pretender to the Afghan throne, who holds Jalalabad.
According to the rumor, Ali Ahmad Jan may return to Kabul and assume the rule there. It is believed he would be more successful than Habibullah, who realizes that his position is untenable. Ali Ahmad Jan could secure powerful support, but there is considerable doubt as to the nature of his relations with Amanullah Khan, the former king.
The twenty-one fugitives included three Germans, Mrs. Trapp, Mr. Belts, chief engineer of the former Afghan government, and Mrs. Belts, who was hurt by a propeller in an earlier attempt to leave the country on Dec. 24 and has since been confined to a hospital.
Plane Removes Baggage.
The Hindustani plane which remained in Kabul since landing there last Tuesday also returned, bringing baggage from the British legation and also Mahomed Aslam, agricultural expert.

Weds Three Royal Girls.
PESHAWAR, India, Feb. 5.—(AP)—Members of a party evacuated yesterday from Kabul, Afghanistan, by royal air force planes, state that Bacha Bakas, the former water boy who has set himself up as king of Afghanistan under the name of Habibullah Khan, was reported to have forcibly married three girls of the royal family. Those brought from Kabul included seven men, thirteen women, and seven children, comprising German, French, and Indian nationals.

Lorraine and Charles Zepnick of 1210 South Ave. Milwaukee, had bad mid-winter coughs when their aunt told them about REM. Their experience with REM was a happy one—it was a story of quick relief!

"Try REM" said her aunt
--and it proved good advice

"Lorraine and Charles had very severe colds and coughs about the middle of winter," says Mrs. Zepnick. "Lorraine's was so bad I had to keep her from school. I tried two or three remedies without success. Then my sister who had used REM, said I ought to try it. Lorraine's cough was the worse so I started giving it to her. That was on Sunday, and by Monday night her cough was gone. Then I started giving REM to Charles, and just a few doses ended his coughing too."

So here's another case of grateful users recommending REM. They know--they've used it themselves!

HOTEL managers know the Tribune can rent their rooms without the aid of any other medium.

And they back their knowledge with their advertising dollars—for, in the past year, they bought 108,080 lines of want advertising in the Tribune—practically four times as much as in all other Chicago papers combined, and almost six times as much as in the second Chicago paper!

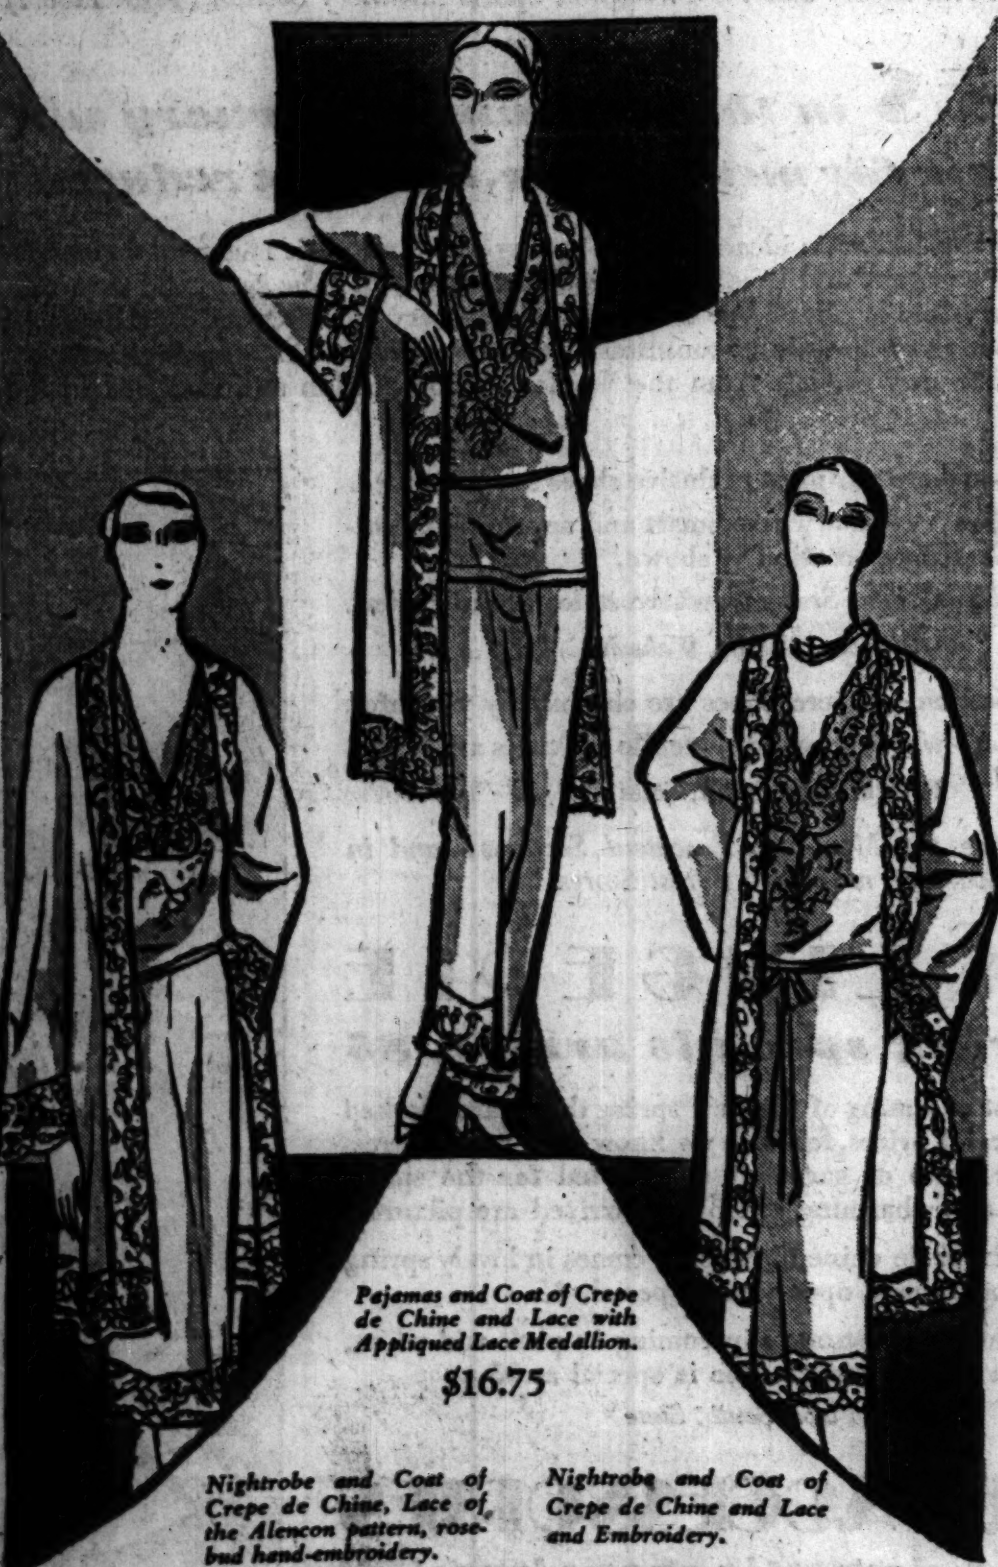

Their reason for preferring the Tribune is plain: with 824,000 people buying it every day and 1,251,000 on Sunday, the Tribune reaches hundreds of thousands more families in Chicago and suburbs than any other newspaper. Included among this army of Tribune readers is practically every good hotel prospect in the community. ## ARTIST'S GREAT LOVE FOR WIFE BLOCKS DIVORCE

Devotion His Only Defense to Cruelty Charge.

James B. Johnson, a young commercial artist, with "a love that baffles description" (quoting Judge Joseph Sabath), yesterday defeated the efforts of his wife, Mrs. Ruth Johnson, 1923 Essex avenue, to obtain a divorce.

At the close of a trial which lasted most of the day, Judge Sabath set for several minutes pondering his decision, while a crowded courtroom waited. Then he spoke:

"We have here a husband who has proved himself by word and deed to be a lover. He carried his wife in his arms about the home when she was suffering from an automobile accident injury. He washed the dishes after his day's labor in his studio. After the separation, he sent her flowers and candy, even when it caused him to be cited for contempt of his injunction. He says he is willing and more than willing to take her home with him now."

Her Love Is Gone.
"On the other side of the table, we have a young wife whose reputation cannot be attacked. For some reason that has not been shown to the court (and probably can't be shown in concrete evidence), she has lost her love for him."

"He is not the character of man who would strike his wife, I'm convinced. He may have hurt her accidentally and in play, but I cannot award a divorce on the charge of cruelty on the showing that has been made."

Attorney Otto Baer, representing Mr. Johnson, based his entire defense on his client's love for his estranged wife.

Awakened Her With Kiss.
The artist gave a different version of the family quarrels cited by his wife to sustain her divorce plea. One unpleasantness was caused, he said, by his accidentally awakening her when he kissed her at 7 a. m., as he was leaving for work. At another instance, when they were playing in their apartment, she held to toothpick like a fencer's foil and was pretending to lunge at him. He thought the toothpick was a needle, and, in pushing her away, hurt her sore knee, he related.

Mrs. Johnson's lawyer, E. C. Kroon, announced she will carry her case to the Appellate court.

DE VALERA TRIES TO ENTER ULSTER; LODGED IN PRISON

(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)
DUBLIN, Ireland, Feb. 5.—Notwithstanding the existence of an order forbidding Eamon de Valera to enter northern Ireland, the Irish Republican leader today left Dublin for Belfast to open the Gaelic league bazaar. When the train reached Gough Wood station, just across the border, two police officers entered the carriage. He was taken to Bessbrook police headquarters. After an hour's wait he was taken to Belfast, where he was lodged in prison. He will go on trial tomorrow. On two previous occasions Mr. de Valera was put across the border when attempting to enter northern Ireland.

Ferret Attacks Sleeping Babe; Eats Part of Face

(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)
PARIS, Feb. 5.—A ferret used for rat catching at Virein escaped from its cage and entered a bedroom where a seventeen-month-old infant was sleeping. The ferret was attracted by the smell of milk. When the mother appeared the ferret had devoured the ear, the nose, and part of the cheek of the infant. The child is in a critical condition.

MYSTERY VEILS TROTSKY, EXILED RED ARMY LEADER

In Russia, in Turkey, or Where? Europe Asks.

BULLETIN.

(Copyright, 1934, by the New York Times.)
RIGA, Latvia, Feb. 6.—According to an official message from Moscow, a train from Tashkent yesterday brought Leon Trotsky, accompanied by members of his family and the cheta to Moscow.

LONDON, Feb. 6.—(AP)—After almost a week of constantly conflicting reports, the exact whereabouts of Leon Trotsky, one-time leader of the Red army, still is a mystery.

Although reports have been received from many quarters that Trotsky was leaving Soviet Russia either for Turkey or Germany, there appeared great doubt tonight as to whether he has actually left Russian territory.

One of the most sensational of these reports that he was being exiled from Russia was that he was aboard the Soviet vessel Krasny Flot, which was among numerous vessels forced to take refuge in the Black sea during a terrific storm which has been raging in that region.

Turkish Officials Silent.

Dispatches from Constantinople said Turkey was absolutely in the dark whether Trotsky was in Russia or even aboard the Krasny Flot, which left her refuge in Heracles harbor today and is due at Constantinople at 9 a. m. tomorrow.

Turkish and Soviet officials were silent on the matter and the belief was prevalent tonight that Trotsky was not even en route to Turkey. The sole statement ever made by the Turkish government on the question was that it had expressed its willingness to permit him to enter Turkey. All other reports, such as that he would embark for Angora under escort of Turkish police and would be required to remain a virtual prisoner at the Soviet embassy, were of foreign origin and were not confirmed in Constantinople.

Deny He Was Exiled.

Among reports in circulation yesterday was one that M. Trotsky had been exiled while crossing the Black sea, but Berlin newspapers printed dispatches from Moscow stating that this was not true and that he had not even left Russia.

Berlin reports that Ambassador Kravinsky had asked the German foreign office for a visa for M. Trotsky but was denied at the Russian embassy there.

While M. Trotsky has long been a thorn in the side of the present Soviet government at Moscow because of his opposition to the Stalin policies, nothing definite has come from Russia regarding any decision to end his exile at Alma Ata, Russian Turkistan. A Soviet censorship concerning Trotsky has been in force in Moscow.

Reports Trotsky in Turkey.
MOSCOW, Feb. 6.—(AP)—The correspondent of the Jewish Telegraphic agency, learns from highly reliable sources here that Leon Trotsky, the former leader of the Red army, arrived at Constantinople on Jan. 24, his departure from Russia, which took place before the date officially announced, was started in secrecy to prevent demonstrations.

The followers of Trotsky, in the absence of information concerning him, are greatly agitated. In a secret circular which they issued he was proclaimed as the greatest proletarian revolutionary leader and the political bureau, the body responsible for the decision to exile Trotsky to Constantinople, was charged with "handing his life over to the first white guard assassin who is perhaps already engaged in hunting him in the wild mountains on the Turkish border."

RUSSIA GIVES UP ALL ITS CLAIMS TO BESSARABIA

Roumania Agrees to Sign Anti-War Pact.

BY WILLIAM SHIRER.

(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)
BUCHAREST, Roumania, Feb. 6.—Soviet Russia today solemnly promised Roumania that in the interests of world peace it renounces all rights to Bessarabia. In return Roumania agreed to sign the special protocol to the Kellogg treaty outlawing war between the two nations.

"This means that permanent peace in eastern Europe will henceforth be guaranteed," Foreign Minister Mironescu said.

Other circles are not so sure, however. There is a feeling here that the news is too good to be true and that until Moscow publicly assures the other powers that it has renounced all rights to Bessarabia the problem will continue to be a thorn in the peace of the Balkans.

Roumania Attacks Reservations.

A month ago when the soviets asked Poland to agree to outlaw war immediately Warsaw hailed the move as just another gesture to gain sympathy abroad. The Russian interpretation of the Kellogg pact now seems in a fair way to be put immediately in force in eastern Europe.

Backed by France, Poland rejected the Soviet proposal unless it included a treaty with Roumania and the Baltic states, with which Moscow previously had refused to sign treaties of non-aggression. The Red foreign office suddenly agreed to the proposal to include all its western neighbors in a general anti-war agreement.

Roumania expressed its willingness, but attached reservations, the chief of which was that Russia renounce all claims to Bessarabia. Although the soviets repeatedly had refused even to discuss the question in recent years, Comissar Litvinoff suddenly showed a turn of mind. Today he consented to the Roumanian reservations and Premier J. I. M. Manu immediately telegraphed the Roumanian ambassador to Moscow, Carol Davila, ordering him to sign the anti-war pact next Tuesday.

Richest Grain Belt in Europe.

By the new agreement Russia agrees never to war on Roumania over Bessarabia.

rabia. One of the richest grain belts in Europe, Bessarabia was seized by Russia in 1870 after the war with Turkey. After the bolshevik revolution in March, 1917, Roumania claimed the territory and after the armistice it was occupied by Roumanian troops.

Political circles see the new Soviet gesture as a move to break the Franco-British ring around the Soviet state and especially to break down the Franco-British anti-Red influences in Poland and Roumania.

Court Holds Norway Liable for Reductions in Wages

(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)
OSLO, Norway, Feb. 6.—A case which is expected to have a reaction in industrial circles was decided in the Oslo courts today. Following the government's decision last year to reduce the wages of certain groups of state functionaries, the latter brought action against the state for repayment of the reductions. The court ruled that the state was liable and ordered that sums aggregating $5,254,000 be repaid. The state is appealing to the Supreme court.

Now you can get finer, cleaner coal than ever before

Today you can have your bin filled with the cleanest, most carefully prepared hard coal ever mined.

Many of the important hard coal producing companies have banded together to "certify" their Anthracite Coal.

They call the coal coming from their mines Cert-i-fide Anthracite. And justly so. Most rigid and exacting tests make sure that each ton shipped comes up to the highest standards.

And this is not all. The dealers handling the 45,000,000 tons of Cert-i-fide Anthracite are Cert-i-fide dealers. In their turn they have pledged themselves to new standards of service.

Buy Cert-i-fide Anthracite from your Cert-i-fide dealer and you'll get the finest fuel plus the finest service.

A Simplified Recipe for Valentine Cakes

Mixing Time Less Than 3 Minutes!

Mrs. Stanley Morley, popular debutante of last year, is an enthusiastic "Kitchen-tested" convert.

The Week's Prize "Kitchen-tested" Recipe

You can make these professional-looking Valentine Cakes in a trice, this new way of baking. A way that's making experienced cooks, everywhere, famous for their baking.

By the development of an utterly new type of flour—Gold Medal "Kitchen-tested" Flour—baking has been simplified amazingly for housewives. And the cause of most baking disappointments banished. "Kitchen-tested" means that every batch of this flour has been tested in an oven just like yours, before it goes to you. Tested for uniformity of result with home recipes.

That means Gold Medal Flour always acts the same way EVERY TIME with your recipes.

Ask your grocer for GOLD MEDAL "Kitchen-tested" Flour. For perfect results, be sure and get that brand of flour before you try this recipe.

Cut out along this line and save
RECIPE . . . Valentine Cakes
4 eggs, 3/4 cup salt, 2 cups sugar, 1 cup milk, 2 tbs. butter, 2 tbs. baking powder, 2 cups GOLD MEDAL "KITCHEN-TESTED" FLOUR, small red candy hearts and larger red candy hearts, small spiced gum-drops.
METHOD: 1. Beat eggs until very light with whirl beater. 2. Beat in salt, sugar and flavoring. 3. Beat in milk which is boiling hot and which has been heated with the 2 tbs. of butter. 4. Sift flour once before measuring. 5. Beat in flour and baking powder which have been sifted together. 6. Pour very quickly into greased and floured pan and bake immediately. TIME: Bake 25 to 30 minutes. TEMPERATURE: 350° F., moderate oven. SIZE OF PAN: Two 9-inch layer cake tins or one 8 x 16-inch baking pan. DIRECTIONS FOR DECORATING: 1. When cake has cooled cut into hearts and rounds, using a heart shaped and round cookie cutter. 2. Ice with Butter Decorating Icing. 3. Around edge of some of the heart-shaped cakes place border of tiny red hearts. In center of other little heart cakes place larger candy hearts. 4. Cover round cakes with icing and make little flowers of gum-drops to decorate these cakes. By cutting each candy into 5 pieces with scissors it is easy to mold each piece into petal shape with fingers. Use green gum-drops for leaves. Place 5 petals in form of a flower in center of each cake. Add a tiny bit of yellow for center of flower and place green leaves around it. AMOUNT: 16 to 20 small cakes. Butter Decorating Icing: 4 tbs. butter, 3 cups confectioner's sugar, 2 tbs. cream, 2 tbs. vanilla, 2 egg whites. METHOD: 1. Cream the butter. 2. Add the sugar, blending the mixture with the cream. 3. Add the vanilla. 4. Beat the egg whites and add to the mixture. 5. Continue beating until the mixture will hold its shape. Then use for spreading and decorating.

The fort that became a city

DOWN by the lake they built a fort. Out of the prairie wind they found a name... Chicago. And out of their will to conquer they laid the foundations of a city. Strength and vision was theirs. Yet even they could not prophesy, could not imagine the city which was to be.

Chicago was founded on the hardy spirit of America's pioneers. Chicago's growth was accomplished through the vision of the city's industrial and financial leaders. And Chicago's growth has been perpetuated by that great buying nation... that new generation of people whose passionate desire for a better and more gracious life has made possible this age of prosperity.

With modern distribution, with efficient merchandising, with constructive advertising Chicago has reached this new nation of people. And Chicago has become the second industrial city of America.

Chicago seeks now to perpetuate its growth. It seeks protection, stability, a future as glorious as its present. New markets must be found... and new advertising economies.

While Chicago has been growing into the second industrial city of America, Crowell Publications have achieved a combined circulation of more than 7,500,000... greater than the magazine circulation of any other publishing house in America. It owes its existence to the same powerful force which has created the industries of Chicago... the desire of a people for better things, a better way to live. Long ago the editorial policy of Crowell Publications was fixed to appeal to that fundamental desire.

The combined circulation of Crowell Publications represents an economical coverage of the responsive, buying homes of America. Constructive and informative advertisements in their pages find themselves automatically keyed to the editorial content.

The Crowell nation offers the industries of Chicago, in their search for new markets and new advertising economies, a tremendously powerful force for continued growth and development... a way to fulfill the promise of the fort that became a city.

JUST SPUTTERS OF OLD REGIME, DE RIVERA SAYS

Claims Outbreaks Fail to Disturb Spain.

BY ROBERT SAGE.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]
MADRID, Feb. 5.—[By telephone to Paris.]—The recent events at Ciudad Real and Valencia are nothing more than the last feeble sputters of the ancient regime which has been submerged under the progressive new Spain built on the finest Spanish traditions combined with efficient and modern political method, according to Gen. Primo de Rivera, president of the council of ministers, who granted El Tribuna an exclusive interview today.

"You can assure your readers that these recent occurrences have strengthened rather than broken the government's authority," he declared, "and they have not altered the rhythm of our national life in any respect. The most they have produced is a slight drop in the value of our currency on the other side of the frontier, and this is the result not of ill will but of lack of information. The reports of insurrections and battles are absolutely false."

Respects Urgent to Disappear.
"I believe that this understandable phenomenon will disappear quickly, due to the country's unanimous reaction in condemning the events, and continuing firmly to maintain its faith in the government in its work of reconstruction."

"These plots—and they really are nothing more than that—are the last endeavors of the political and social regime which has fortunately been wiped out by the country's condition and the government. It realizes that it is being replaced by a new national structure and that this government is carefully elaborating its benefits by extracting the lawful essence of our peculiar traditions and is adopting the most advantageous political methods for the legitimate future of Spain."

Exposition to Show World.

The dictator expressed the belief that the forthcoming international exposition at Seville and Barcelona would show the world that Spain is not confining her concern to national interests but is capable of taking her place in the world of affairs.

JAPAN AND CHINA END ROW; NIPPON TROOPS TO LEAVE

Shantung Goes Back to Nationalists.

BY JOHN POWELL.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

SHANGHAI, Feb. 5.—After an all night session the Chinese-Japanese delegates early today reached a settlement of the major diplomatic problems, especially the Tsinan incident, which involves evacuation of Japanese troops from Shantung. Immediately after the conference Dr. C. T. Wang, foreign minister, left for Nanking to present the Japanese proposals to the Nationalist government state council.

Neither side issued an official statement, but it is learned that the Japanese have agreed to remove their troops from Shantung upon China's guarantee of the safety of Japanese lives and property. The two governments are to appoint a joint commission for the purpose of assessing damages to both sides and probably both governments will forego the question of an apology.

Troops May Go March 1.

The Japanese minister, Kenkichi Yoshizawa, refused to make any comment, but the local Japanese press confirms the above facts, attributed to Dr. Wang, and says Japan shortly will announce the date for the withdrawal of troops from Shantung, possibly March 1. According to the Japanese, the joint commission will attempt to facilitate the reestablishment of Chinese administration within the zone which has been controlled by Japanese military authority since May, 1928.

The Japanese also claim the Chinese have agreed to suppress the anti-Japanese boycott and say other questions have been satisfactorily settled.

Reveries Rents Shanghai House.

M. Yoshizawa announced that he has rented a house within the local French concession here, and while he does not contemplate the immediate removal of the Japanese legation from Peking, he expects to remain here indefinitely in order to take up the negotiation of the new Chinese-Japanese commercial treaty to replace the pact which expired three years ago.

Two Americans Drown in South African Swamp

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

CAPE TOWN, South Africa, Feb. 5.—A message from northern Rhodesia states that two young American geologists, T. J. Andrews and M. Helm, drowned in a swamp at the Chamber river near Swana Nkhalwa. A search party found the geologists' sun helmets floating on water five feet deep. It is said that one of them must have entered the pool to retrieve a duck and got tangled in the weeds. His companion went to his rescue and suffered the same fate.

The Film

that is found by dental research to discolor teeth and foster serious tooth and gum disorders.

Film on Teeth How it acts—what it does

Film discolours teeth and then destroys them.
Dentists urge a special way to remove it.

DENTAL science in studying the common tooth and gum disorders finds their chief source to be a coating on teeth known as film. Film, too, is the cause of dull discolored teeth.

Thus removing film from teeth is the first step in having gloriously white and healthier teeth. Dentists urge you to employ the special dentifrice known as Pepsodent.

Film—Its Dangers

Run your tongue across your teeth and you will feel this film. It absorbs stains from food and smoking and turns white teeth dull. It clings to teeth, gets into crevices and stays. Film hardens into tartar. Germs by the millions breed in it. And germs, with tartar, are the chief cause of pyorrhea. Film must be removed each day. Ordinary brushing fails to do it successfully. So, dentists urge the special film-removing dentifrice called Pepsodent.

First, Pepsodent curdles film, then removes it in gentle safety to enamel. No other way will make teeth as sparkling white. Write for free 10-day supply to The Pepsodent Co., 1104 S. Wabash Ave., Chicago, or ask your druggist for full-size tube. Find out, without delay, how white your teeth really are.

MILLS WILL GIVE YOUTH, CHARITY NEAR 50 MILLION

Includes Bequests for Art and Schools.

Chicago, N. Y., Feb. 5.—(Special.)—Ogden Mills, financier and philanthropist, left $1,000,000 to charities and public institutions by the terms of his will admitted to probate here today.

Life interest in the residue of his estate, estimated at close to $50,000,000, passed to his son, Ogden L. Mills, minority trustee of the trust, and to his five daughters, Beatrice, Countess of Grand, of London, and Mrs. Mary Carnegie Phelps of Palm Beach, Fla.

Mr. Mills' children will make further public bequests of $1,000,000, it was learned from attorneys for the estate, following directions which Mr. Mills desired, but was unable to incorporate in his will previous to his death on Jan. 29.

Bequests for Art Museum. The Metropolitan Museum of Art, which receives $100,000 by the will, will receive an additional $10,000, according to his bequest. The museum also receives two paintings by A. Van der Meer and other well known paintings of a collection of bronzes in Mr. Mills' Paris residence.

The Home for Incurables will receive a total of $1,000,000 in the final distribution of the estate. The American Museum of Natural History, $500,000, the Mills Memorial hospital at San Mateo, Cal., $200,000, the Grace Catholic corporation of San Francisco, $250,000, less gifts made during Mr. Mills' life, and the New York Zoological society and Phillips Exeter academy, $50,000 each.

To his son, Ogden L. Mills, Mr. Mills left his city residence at 5th avenue and 6th street, property immediately adjoining the residence at 4 East 59th street and the property at 169-171 West 53d street.

Mr. Mills also receives the estate at Staatsburg, under the terms of the will of his mother, the late Ruth Livingston Mills, who held a life interest in the estate. To his daughter, Beatrice, Mr. Mills left all his shares in the company which owns his Paris residence.

In the many men and women in his employ Mr. Mills left a total of $175,000. To his secretary, Robert C. Gamble, Mr. Mills bequeathed $20,000 and a similar amount passes to another employee, Arthur A. Hartman. Three other employees of Mr. Mills' office at 15 Broad street, receive $5,000 each. Bequests of $5,000 each also go to all employees of the Mills estate incorporated of California.

FIFTEEN MILLION ARE VICTIMS OF THE FLU OR ITS RELATIVES

(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)

Washington, D. C., Feb. 5.—(Special.)—One person out of every twelve inhabitants of the United States suffered either from influenza or some cold during the influenza epidemic. Maj. Gen. Merritt W. Ireland, surgeon general of the army, stated today. Gen. Ireland estimates that a total of 15,000,000 persons were affected, 8,000,000 with influenza and 7,000,000 with colds and bronchitis.

A total of 8,788 cases of influenza were reported in the army between Nov. 10 and Jan. 15, the attack rate for the period being 7 per cent. During the same period 5,513 cases of colds were reported.

"Applying the attack rate of the army to the total population of the country, there must have been 8,000,000 of our inhabitants suffering with influenza alone during the eleven weeks period," Gen. Ireland said. "The figures justify the assumption that not less than 15,000,000 persons have been incapacitated by these diseases."

While Gen. Ireland believes that the influenza epidemic is on the decline, he warned against any relaxation in applying preventive measures to control the disease.

"The public should not be lulled into any false sense of security merely because current statistics seem to indicate the epidemic is on the wane," he said. "The army statistics for the last decade clearly show that the height of influenza incidence is reached during the early months of the calendar year."

DRY ISSUE SPLITS LEGISLATURE IN MICHIGAN STATE

"Life for Pint" Center of Big Battle.

Lansing, Mich., Feb. 5.—(Special.)—Indication that the Michigan legislature is rapidly dividing into hostile camps over the prohibition issue that has arisen out of the proposed modification of the habitual criminal act was seen in a development in the senate today.

A bill introduced by Senator Cass J. Jankowski of Detroit and prepared in the attorney general's office, which would have allowed the attorney general to initiate criminal proceedings in any county of the state, was sent back to the judiciary committee when its sponsor discovered that R. N. Holm, superintendent of the Michigan Anti-Saloon league, had been lobbying in its behalf. Jankowski is of moist sentiments and the discovery that the ultra-dry lobbyist was backing his measure caused him to suspect that it should be killed in committee.

Result of Michigan Tangle.
The bill, it was pointed out at the time of its introduction, is designed to prevent recurrence of the situation of a few months ago in Muskegon county, when the outgoing prosecutor refused to file an information under the habitual criminal act against a four time liquor law violator, Alex Zack.

The prosecutor, Harold H. Smalley, was severely censured by the attorney general's office for taking on himself the responsibility for non-compliance with the apparent provisions of the statute, but he stood firm and Zack was not given a life sentence as have several other prohibition "habitual criminals."

The Jankowski bill is believed to have been a part of the anti-saloon league's program for tightening the "life for a pint" law to a point hitherto unapproached.

Dry Leader Opposes Change.
Since Jankowski introduced his bill, however, Gov. Fred W. Green and Holm have broken over the administration program for softening the habitual criminal act's harsh provisions. The dry worker has revealed himself as opposing any change in the act so as to exempt prohibition offenders while the governor has promised to throw his entire support to modification.

DEPOSED BY FUGITIVE, KILLER.
Mont Vernon, N. H., Feb. 5.—(Special.)—Joseph Fugate, 19, son of W. H. Fugate, died in a hospital here today as the result of injuries suffered when he was thrown from a horse by a woman of his town on a sidewalk, which prevented his escape.

CONGER IS ONLY CHICAGOAN IN MILLROSE GAMES

One Entry Recalls Stars of Other Days.

When the annual indoor track and field games of the Millrose A. A. are held in Madison Square Garden Saturday night, the Cherry Circle of the Chicago Athletic Association and the Tri-Color of the Illinois A. C. will be conspicuous by their absence.

Contrary to previous years when both clubs were represented by great athletes, only one man will represent Chicago. Ray Conger, who broke into the spotlight while a member of the Iowa State track team, will carry the colors of the I. A. C. The C. A. A. will not be represented.

On Saturday, Ray Conger of the I. A. C. will be the only athlete to wear the colors of the local club. The C. A. A., a leader for over a quarter of a century in the fostering of amateur track and field athletics, is no longer represented in this branch of athletic activity. Temporarily, the Cherry Circle club has disbanded its teams.

The I. A. C. is retrenching. The tri-color club will not hold its annual indoor handicap meet this year. This event has always been one of the leading events of the early indoor track and field season in Chicago. Lack of interest by other clubs affiliated with the A. A. U. is given as the reason for the discontinuance of this set of games.

Schaefer Wins, 400-305, Over Felix Grange

New York, Feb. 5.—(AP)—Young Jake Schaefer, son of Old Jake, the "Wizard of Billiards," needed all his amazing ability tonight to defeat Felix Grange, French champion, in the second round tournament for the world 13.2 billiards title. Schaefer won 400 to 305.

After Grange counted 13 in his sixteenth turn, Schaefer ran out the game with a cluster of eight.

Schaefer eclipsed Grange's high run in his next time at the table and had the balls in a perfect cluster at 132. He needed only 19 more to run out the game, but missed a difficult shot after a string of 135.

Grange saved his delicate game until Schaefer ran 51 billiards again in the fourteenth inning and took the lead. The Frenchman discarded his round the table shots, nursed the balls up and down the cushions, and counted 113 before a cushion masse stopped the string.

He led Schaefer, favorite of the tourney and first man to break Willie Hoppe's championship reign, 292 to 287 at the end of the fifteen inning.

Grange's run of 118 followed eight innings in which he totaled 21 caroms.

An hour of desultory billiards found Schaefer trailing the Frenchman by a narrow margin in the thirteenth inning.

Grange led, 172 to 160, although he clicked only 47 caroms in seven straight innings. Schaefer was erratic, one run of 51 in the tenth inning standing out on his card.

Grange's daring play faltered after his high run. He made little attempt to gather the balls and missed most of the difficult draw and bank shots.

The inning score:

SCHAEFER—2, 48, 4, 0, 2, 1, 27, 21, 11, 0, 5, 21, 45, 126, 400.

GRANGE—7, 3, 41, 8, 21, 2, 0, 7, 1, 2, 0, 7, 2, 118, 305.

Schaefer average, 19.1-17.

Grange average, 19.1-16.

Schaefer high run, 130.

Grange high run, 118.

Monmouth College Five

Runs Over Coe, 33 to 24

Monmouth, Ill., Feb. 5.—(Special.)—Monmouth college won a Midwest conference basketball game here tonight from Coe college, 33 to 24. Monmouth led from the start, dropping in nine baskets and a free throw.

Monmouth led at the half, 10 to 9.

Austin Loses Doubleheader to Marshall

Marshall heavies yesterday remained in the thick of the fight for the west section crown of the City High school basketball league by hurdling Austin, 16 to 13, at the Austin Y. M. C. A. gym. The victory enabled Marshall to keep pace with Crane, with which it is tied for the runner-up position in the race headed by Harrison.

Marshall heavies have won six and lost two.

In the lightweight game, Marshall piled up a 28 to 13 victory over Austin.

Marshall ponies also figure in a second place tie, being deadlocked with Medill at six wins and two lost.

U. S. TAKES BACK
SEAT AS GREAT
SHIPPING POWERDrops from Third to Seventh Place.

BY O. A. MATHER.

While all other great maritime nations expanded their shipping last year, the United States continued to reduce its net tonnage. World production of merchant vessels in 1928 totaled 2,699,000 tons, according to Lloyd's Register of Shipping. This was the largest tonnage turned out since 1921 and marked an increase of 41,000 tons, or nearly 20 per cent, over 1927.

The United States, however, produced only 91,257 tons of shipping, which was only a little better than half the tonnage turned out in 1927 and also was only about 3 1/2 per cent of the world total. The only other country to produce less shipping last year than in 1927 was Italy, which country and France were the only ones to rank below the United States, although France almost doubled its output.

Ranked Third in 1927.

The decline of the United States as a maritime power is further shown by the fact that in 1919 this country launched 4,075,000 tons of shipping, or 17 per cent of the world total. With this was the result of the post-war demand, even as late as 1927 the United States turned out 179,218 tons, or 1 per cent of the world total, which was about the American production for 1919, the last year before the world war.

Also in 1927 this country ranked third among the nations in shipbuilding, being topped only by Great Britain and Ireland and Germany. Last year, however, Holland, Denmark, Sweden and Japan also stepped ahead of the United States, which now occupies seventh place. Last year, Sweden produced 1,445,000 tons last year, or nearly 54 per cent of the total.

About 44 per cent of all ships launched last year were motor vessels, a higher proportion of this type than ever before. Total tonnage of this type was 1,123,229 tons. In 1921 only about 8 per cent of total launches were vessels to run with internal combustion engines.

Sales Increase.

The Public Service Company of Northern Illinois yesterday reported the largest gross and net earnings in its history. Its sales of electricity last year increased 25.8 per cent over 1927, and sales of gas increased 17 per cent. It also served 102 communities and 418,911 customers.

Operating revenues for 1928 were $23,162,899, an increase of $2,446,302, or 11.5 per cent, over 1927. Net income was $2,523,452, equivalent after preferred dividends to $12.75 a share on the $49,646 shares of combined $100 par and non-par common stock. Dividends totaling $1,421,563 were paid on the common shares, after which $2,101,889 was added to surplus, which now stands at $10,254,134. Net income for 1927 was $1,136,612, equivalent to $12.75 a share on 362,671 shares of common stock. The balance sheet as of Dec. 31, 1928, shows current assets of $20,291,311 and current liabilities of $2,848,456, compared respectively with $12,252,229 and $2,263,423 at the end of 1927.

GOLD PURCHASE

FROM ENGLAND IS

BIGGEST IN YEARS

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, Feb. 5.—Banking houses in New York today purchased in London $14,700,000 worth of gold for shipment to the United States tomorrow on the steamships Paris and Mauretania. It was the largest purchase in any one day for years, and it increased to $27,700,000 the total of the metal acquired thus far this year for shipment from England to the United States.

The primary cause of this immense gold flow to America is that the exchange rate of the British pound has fallen below par, or about five-thirty-eighths of a cent below the point at which it is more profitable to import gold than exchange.

Starting exchange is below par because the high rates for money in New York for many months have attracted money from England and other European countries which have surplus funds to lend or invest here, where its earnings in the call money market will run as high as 8 per cent.

ANNOUNCES GRANT OF
20% STOCK DIVIDEND

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, Feb. 5.—The Central Union Trust company today announced its intention of granting shareholders a twenty per cent stock dividend and thereby took the lead among a group of important earnings statements and dividend disbursements. The dividend will be distributed by increasing the company's capital from $12,500,000 to $15,000,000.

The trustees have called a meeting for March 22, at which stockholders will vote approval of the distribution. It is planned also to change the par value of the stock from $100 to $20, effective May 2. This, with the increased capital, will give each holder six shares for one now held.

Directors of the Timken Roller Bearing company placed the new common stock on a 33 annual dividend basis with the declaration of a quarterly disbursement of 75 cents a share. Vacuum Oil company directors increased the annual rate by $1 a share with the declaration of $1 quarterly. Standard Oil of Nebraska announced an extra disbursement of 25 cents. A quarterly payment of 40 cents a share on the new stock of A. G. Spalding & Co. was voted, placing the stock on a $1.50 annual rate, equivalent to $3 a share on the old stock which paid $6. The Angle Steel Stock company declared an extra of 25 cents.

Fokker Corp. Lets Large

Contract for Air Motors

Los Angeles, Feb. 5.—(AP)—A $2,400,000 contract for 350 airplane motors let by the Fokker Aircraft Corporation of America was described by plane builders here today as the largest single order in the history of the industry. The contract, divided between the Wright Aeronautical corporation and Pratt &amp; Whitney, calls for the delivery of 200 motors of 425 horsepower and 150 of 525 horsepower to the Fokker company this year.

Rules U. S. Can Check Up

Washington, D. C., Feb. 5.—(AP)—The United States Court of Claims has ruled that the commissioner of internal revenue has authority to determine the basis of inventories used by business concerns on tax returns.

Judge Nicholas J. Sinnott, in an opinion handed down here, ruled that Commissioner Blair's word regarding inventories is final and would not be reviewed by the courts.

Air Financing Recalled by Lindy's Flight

BY SCRUTATOR.

Companies which finance air travel lines or the production of their necessary flying equipment are being formed at a rate so rapid that it is difficult to keep up with "Who's Who in Aviation."

There is no lack of capital for expansion in the air business. Some 200 million dollars are available at any time, it was announced by Assistant Secretary of Commerce MacCracken in a speech here recently. Aviation apparently is just now ready to get into something like mass production. Both in equipment and in actual travel facilities. A dream is being realized, toward concentrating control with large financing bodies.

Col. Lindbergh, opening a new air mail route to Panama, is trying for the Pan American Airways. This company is a subsidiary of the Aviation Corporation of America. The last named concern was formed by consolidation of the Aviation Corporation of America and the Atlantic, Gulf and Caribbean Airways last June. It has total assets of $3,200,000, and last statistics available, and current assets of $2,441,693. Only two weeks ago about 225,000 shares were put on the New York curb. The closing price yesterday was $4 1/4.

Ambitious Plans.

This company's plans are ambitious, calling for the establishment of 13,000 miles of air lines connecting twenty-one countries in the western hemisphere. Through the Pan-American subsidiary it has contracts to carry mail not only to Panama and Mexico and Cuba, but also to Guatemala and Salvador, with permits to extend the mail service to Colombia, Venezuela and the Guianas, British and Dutch. Cornelius Vandergrift Whitney is president of the Aviation corporation and the directorate includes William H. Vanderbilt and Richard F. Hoyt.

Far larger, from the money standpoint, is North American Aviation, Inc., two million shares of which were offered at $15 on Dec. 7. It is an investment concern, empowered to deal in all stocks, but with the primary purpose of advancing aviation. It has been announced that the company purchased control of the Sperry Gyroscope company, makers of safety apparatus, in December. C. M. Keys is president and a number of wealthy Chicagoans are interested. The stock was traded in on the New York curb on Dec. 23 and thereafter, the close yesterday being at 17 1/4.

Total Assets.

Another of the large aviation firms is the Curtiss Aeroplane and Motor company, one of the earners in the industry. Its net last year has been estimated at more than a million dollars. There is no funded debt and only common stock outstanding—343,596 shares on Dec. 12. Earnings to Sept. 30 in 1928 were $2,987,500. Semi-annual dividends of 50 cents a share were paid in March and September. On the New York exchange yesterday Curtiss closed at 16 1/2.

The parent Curtiss company has associated with it and under control the Curtiss Flying service, Curtiss Aeroplane and Export company and Curtiss Robertson Aircraft Supply company. Total assets in September were reported at more than 11 1/2 millions, with about $4 millions current.

A program of plant expansion is in progress. Another recent development is the formation of the Curtiss-Caproni corporation. On Jan. 29, 200,000 shares of 400,000 of the company to be outstanding were placed on sale at $15.50 a share. Gianni Caproni will supervise the making of planes that can carry as much as twenty tons.

Other companies among those leading in the financial aspects of aviation will be dealt with in this column later.

PENNSY MAY USE
U. S. SHIPS, RUN
LINERS ABROADAdmit Plan Is Under Consideration.

BY HENRY WALES.

[Copyright, 1929, by The Chicago Tribune.]

PARIS, Feb. 5.—P. W. Chapman &amp; Co., bankers, who made a bid to purchase the United States steamship lines and who may build, it is said, two more liners like the Leviathan, are behind a movement of the Pennsylvania railroad to obtain steamships and run them to Europe from Montauk Point, Long Island, cutting off a day of the trans-Atlantic voyage, it is believed here.

Shipping officials acquainted with the situation assert that the Pennsylvania railroad for a long time has been seeking to enter the ocean travel field, and having acquired considerable property rights in Montauk would like to develop a harbor terminus, thus building up their Long Island railroad. The tremendous saving in pier labor and fuel and the possibility of a trans-Atlantic voyage in four days, permitting a three day lay over at each end, and every vessel making a round trip in a fortnight instead of three weeks, as is presently required, is pointed out. The Pennsylvania railroad is said to expect the operation of steamers will provide enormous freight traffic for the rail and passenger freight traffic.

ALONG RIGHT DIRECTION.

Philadelphia, Pa., Feb. 5.—[Special.]—Paris reports that the Chapman bid for the United States lines had some relationship with a plan of the Pennsylvania railroad for entering the ocean service were "probably along the right line," it was said at the office of the railroad here tonight. It was explained that such a plan could be worked in conjunction with the transcontinental air-rail service which the Pennsylvania system is to launch this spring in cooperation with other railroads and air transport agencies.

It had been in the minds of railroad men for some time, it was said, to offer passengers returning from Europe fast land transportation upon their arrival at an American port, and Montauk Point had been under consideration as a likely site. Here, after a quick ocean trip, the trans-Atlantic travelers could immediately catch an express train to New York and continue the transcontinental journey by rail and air.

It was insisted, however, that although such a plan had been under discussion nothing definite was likely to be done in the immediate future.

CHAPMAN DENIES REPORT.

New York, Feb. 5.—[Special.]—Paul W. Chapman, banker of Chicago and New York, high bidder for the eleven vessels of the United States lines, denied tonight the Paris report that his bid was merely a cloak for the Pennsylvania railroad to purchase the lines and enter ocean service.

No such plan has come up in connection with the present bid of more than $16,000,000, Mr. Chapman said, and he denied that he was acting as agent for the Pennsylvania railroad.

Bull Trading Takes Firm
Grip on Chicago Stocks

BY GEORGE HAMMOND.

[Chicago stock list page 30.]

Bullish enthusiasm took a firm hold on the Chicago stock market yesterday, and net gains ranging from one to 13 points were registered. A number of new highs were established in active trading, all sections of the list being represented.

Expectations of good earnings statements for 1928 brought a number of good gains to the industrial group. Better business in the aluminum ware business brought gains of 4 points and 1 1/2 respectively.

Grigsby-Grunow was a feature of the radio list with a gain of 4 1/2. Zenith Radio sold at a new high of $11.12 1/2, after all charges and federal taxes, equivalent to $8.01 a share on 141,450 shares of stock outstanding. This compares with $1,578,533, or $11.01 a share, on 137,000 shares outstanding in 1927. The figures do not include the earnings of subsidiaries, but do cover dividends from the Locomotive Motor company preferred stock held in the Auburn treasury.

Reliance Manufacturing eased a bit and then recovered its loss. The company reported net income for 1928 of $710,859 after charges and taxes, equal after preferred dividends to $2.35 a share on the 250,000 shares of $10 par common stock outstanding.

Backstay Welt was fractionally higher on the announcement of the report of C. Schenckel, president, that the company is now supplying 60 per cent of the demands of the automobile industry for welts, gimps, moldings and bindings.

Wahl company was unchanged. The company reported net income of $204,782 after all charges and taxes for 1928. This is equal, after allowing for regular dividend requirements on the 7 per cent preferred stock, on which dividends in arrears amount to 10 1/2 per cent, to 84 cents a share on the 154,794 shares of no par common stock.

HERE'S NEW IDEA:
WILL SELL STOCK
IN APARTMENTS

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, Feb. 5.—A radical departure in real estate financing, which does away with first and second mortgages, substitutes calculations based on cost for the present system of appraised valuations, and involves the sale of stock, rather than bonds, to the public, was announced today by the National City company, and the United States Realty and Improvement company. It is intended to supply $100,000,000 to the building construction industry in the course of the next year through the new plan.

The plan will place real estate financing on a strictly equity basis, and it is intended to put the construction industry in a position to compete with the stock market and with general business for the funds needed for continued development. The recent slowing up of construction has been attributed to tightening of credit conditions in that industry. Hereafter, the bulk of real estate financing has been effected through the sale of mortgage bonds.

It was insisted, however, that although such a plan had been under discussion nothing definite was likely to be done in the immediate future.

CHAPMAN DENIES REPORT.

New York, Feb. 5.—[Special.]—Paul W. Chapman, banker of Chicago and New York, high bidder for the eleven vessels of the United States lines, denied tonight the Paris report that his bid was merely a cloak for the Pennsylvania railroad to purchase the lines and enter ocean service.

No such plan has come up in connection with the present bid of more than $16,000,000, Mr. Chapman said, and he denied that he was acting as agent for the Pennsylvania railroad.

Officers and Directors of Mart Are Re-elected

Lawrence H. Whiting was re-elected chairman of the board of directors and treasurer of the American Furniture Mart Building corporation and V. L. Alward was re-elected president at the annual meeting of the board yesterday.

All officers and directors were re-elected for the coming year. The building is occupied up to approximately 93 per cent of capacity, the president said in his annual report.

By the end of 1929 it is anticipated that the building will be nearly completely leased.

Following the Tape

A. G. BECKER & CO. underwrites and distributes common stocks, as well as bonds. When we distribute a stock issue, we distribute it in the same way we distribute bonds—on an investment basis. We recommend the security because we believe the Company has possibilities of growth and we want investors to buy the stock to hold in order that they may really benefit from the growth in the Company.

In addition, we deliberately attempt to place the stock widely in small blocks to eliminate, so far as possible, very large or speculative commitments which are likely to be thrown on the market at any time. In addition to this initial distribution, we continue actively to direct the attention of investors to the securities to promote the continuing interest that goes to make up an orderly market. We believe that the investor's interest is served in this way.

We invite inquiries of investors regarding investment stocks.

We recommend for investment at the present time the following high grade stocks with which we are identified:

ACME STEEL COMPANY	Common Stock
AUTOSTROP	Common Stock
SAFETY RAZOR CO., INC.	Convertible Class "A" Stock
CHICAGO PNEUMATIC TOOL CO.	Convertible Preference Stock
HAMMILL PAPER CO.	Common Stock
HART SCHAFFNER & MARK	Common Stock
LAWBECK CORPORATION	Stock Units
MONSANTO CHEMICAL WORKS	Common Stock
JOHN MORRELL & CO., INC.	Common Stock
NEWPORT COMPANY	Class "A" Convertible
PARKER PEN COMPANY	Common Stock
WIEBOLDT STORES, INC.	Common Stock

Full details of these issues and additional offerings upon request.

Investment Counselors for a Quarter CenturyRead this Week's Brookmire Bulletin...containing a discussion of investment conditions.

Renewed confidence in securities—as indicated by rising prices after a period where no progress was made—raises the question as to whether we are on the verge of a prolonged upswing. Do fundamental business conditions now justify an investor in buying securities with confidence?

What Policy?

What program is sound, and how will it determine what action to take?

Because the outlook now seems not to be clear, many investors are asking what they should do about buying securities or selling those they now own. For this reason, we have analyzed the situation in our latest Bulletin. In addition, certain individual stocks are covered and a definite statement is made as to an investment policy.

This Bulletin is representative of the type of work which the Brookmire organization has been doing for 25 years. The purpose of Brookmire Service is to provide investment counsel to investors who are looking for

- (1) Safety of principal.
- (2) Better-than-average return.
- (3) Appreciation.

It was with these three points in mind that this Bulletin was prepared. A complimentary copy will be sent upon request.

Our 1920
disclosure
gift

Again this company witnesses the passing of a year of complete safety and security for its thousands of investors. Forty-eight exceptional years—built on sincere service and public confidence.

Investors large and small in every state in the Union have purchased Cochran & McClellan first mortgage real estate bonds—millions of dollars worth—unquestioned by salesmen (because we employ none).

We deeply appreciate this confidence and this recognition of the Cochran & McClellan direct plan of serving investors—a plan which enables us to offer the purchaser the highest rate of interest consistent with safety.

As a token of our appreciation to our present investors on their 48th anniversary—and as a symbol of welcome to new investors, we have chosen this very fine Corona fountain pen desk set for a gift to each purchaser of our bonds, either for cash or on payment plan, while this offer is in effect. Denominations $100, $500, $1,000. As little as $10 starts you on our Return in 15 Years Plan and entitles you to this unusual gift offer.

This new-type, non-breakable, gold-plated Corona fountain pen with beautiful base of Italian Marble will fit snugly against the finest desk. Secure it for yourself—or for a gift to another. We can make this offer for a limited time only. Phone, call or send coupon for full particulars.

ACCOMPLISHMENT

In 1928

For the Third Consecutive Year The Sun Published More Advertising Than Any Other New York Evening Newspaper

While we're analyzing the wonderful prospects for 1929—let's not forget the accomplishments of 1928.

Take the accomplishments of The Sun, for instance.

In 1928 The Sun published more news and more advertising than in any other year in its long history of ninety-six years.

In 1928 The Sun published—for the third consecutive year—a LARGER VOLUME OF ADVERTISING than any other New York evening newspaper. It led the second evening newspaper last year by over two and one-half million lines—a larger margin of leadership than in any previous year. And it made a larger gain than any other New York evening newspaper.

The Sun led all New York evening newspapers not only in TOTAL ADVERTISING but also in NATIONAL Advertising, in LOCAL DISPLAY Advertising and in DEPARTMENT STORE Advertising.

What better evidence can you have of the value of The Sun to advertisers—of its ability to produce results? What better reason can you have for placing your advertisement in The Sun?

Nightly Facial, Given by Yourself, Is Great Beauty Aid

Time and again I am asked if I believe in facial massage and if a daily treatment by a professional is necessary. By that necessary is meant valuable rather than urgent. If I had the money and the time I should like nothing better than to have a clever facial operator take me in hand daily. Without attempt to hint of dubious stock market windfalls that might make the daily jaunt to our favorite beauty parlor possible, it is time rather than money that is the deterrent. I'm not unique in a world of busy business or professional women who are not able to give the time to and from the beauty shop and the hour or more spent there. Unless you live close at hand to one you must reckon a good two hours. The careless attitude toward money is based solely on the psychology of the lame in matters regarding beauty. There's nothing she can't afford if she makes up her mind she has to have it. Of course, I'd want the best treatment. On her face a week visits, I'm told by one of the smartest women operators I've run across, the face may be massaged sufficiently for average needs. And once a week, if the twice weekly is impossible, is not to be scorned in facial upsets. However, we busy women may, and a great many of us must, rely on our own endeavors. We may not become with practice even as skilled as the expert masseuse. Nevertheless, we can give our faces a few minutes (five at the least) treatment every night before retiring. That isn't something we ought to do. It is something we must do to keep the skin in good condition. The amateur need only know that the must work in a general upward and outward direction; that she should pat or stroke lightly and that the chief office of a good facial is to stir up the circulation. Of course, we can pick up good hints on the way fingers are worked over the face by an expert from a professional treatment or two.

Irish Potato Cakes.

One of my men correspondents writes as follows: "Will you send me the recipe for 'Irish potato cakes' that you adapted from Mrs. Horace Mann's cook book? This adaptation was made two or three years ago, and it is interesting to have some one have kept it in mind all this time, and since I find I have no duplicates of the recipe I judge that it had some favor to it. It is interesting to have some one have kept it in mind all this time, and since I find I have no duplicates of the recipe I judge that it had some favor to it. It is interesting to have some one have kept it in mind all this time, and since I find I have no duplicates of the recipe I judge that it had some favor to it."

cup of cream and we changed the recipe as follows: Two cups of rice, one-half cup of salt, two tablespoons of sugar, four eggs, together and put into a pan covered by seven inches and bake for one-half hour in a 375 degree oven. This amount will make a cake about one and one-half inches deep and as creamy and pleasant a potato cake as any one could ask for. Note that no eggs are required for it. The most certain description I ever heard of a potato cake was from a man who thought it was the best of complements to breakfast, but he could not tell me how his mother made it. Other recipes are in my file but they have not been tested, and in the old cook books we also find recipes for this cake, which was evidently greatly popular fifty or sixty years ago. In the old "Hydrophobic Cook Book" potato cakes are made with a "proper quantity of yeast."

FARM and GARDEN

Who's to blame for the heavy losses that are brought about in this country every year because of eggs becoming rotten and otherwise rendered unfit for food? Producers and consumers are both interested in this heavy loss which averages nearly 50 cents for every person in the United States. There are $50,000,000 worth of eggs that passed every year before the canisters used in detecting bad eggs and found unfit for human food. Such a loss in any other business would be considered a calamity, according to E. R. Menefee, a Purdue poultryman, who believes that loss to be almost wholly preventable, or at least reduced ninety per cent. But farmers, grocers, and dealers would have to develop methods for obtaining and maintaining high quality in the eggs until they reach the consumer. Farmers can improve the present profits by following Mr. Menefee's suggestions: Gather eggs often, keep them in a cool place, prevent dirty eggs, eat the small and cracked eggs at home and market the eggs often. This authority says facts and figures seem to indicate that both producers and consumers are right in their contentions that while farmers think they are not paid enough for eggs, city residents feel they are paying too much for quality that reaches their breakfast tables. Mr. Menefee says the wide margin mainly is due to defects in the system of marketing.

"The system must provide for the maintaining of quality in eggs from the farm to the consumer," Mr. Menefee said. "At present this is not being accomplished with any degree of accuracy."

McCormick Gift, Y.W.C.A. Hall, to Open Sunday

BY THALIA

The Harriet Hammond McCormick memorial hall, the gift of Cyrus Hall McCormick to the Chicago Y. W. C. A., is to be opened on Sunday afternoon and tea will be served from 4 to 5 o'clock.

Mrs. Philip S. Post, chairman of the housing committee of the Y. W. C. A., is to be one of the hostesses. Other members of the committee include Mrs. John Stuart, Mrs. Victor Eiting, Mrs. Carroll H. Soder, Mrs. Cyrus Bentley, Mrs. John Paul Walling, and Mrs. Charles B. Goodspeed.

Members of the board of directors who will receive include Mrs. Hermosa E. Butler, former president, during whose term the gift was announced, and Mrs. Elias H. Strawn, who as first vice president is the acting head during the absence of Mrs. William L. Hodgkins, who is in Europe.

National Drama week was given a boost yesterday at the luncheon given in the Stevens hotel ballroom by the Drama League and the English Speaking Union for members of the "Macbeth" and for the Stratford-upon-Avon players. At the speakers' table, which was decked in robes of fern, spring flowers, and yellow tapers, were Mrs. Samuel P. Newton, president of the league; Frederick A. Brown, president of the English Speaking Union; Godfrey Digby Napier Haggard, British consul general; Mrs. Beatrice Forbes-Robertson Hale, Mr. and Mrs. Hollister Sturges, Mrs. William Niles, Miss Florence Reed, Lynn Harding, William Farnum, and Leonard Moody of the "Macbeth" company, and Mr. and Mrs. Archibald Flower and W. Bridges Adams, representing the English thespians.

Among those present in the audience were Mrs. Alden Swift, Mrs. William Hurry, Mrs. Zelle Barthelmy, Mr. and Mrs. Alan Dixon, Mrs. Tracy Drake, Alfred Hamill, Mrs. John Hamilton, Miss Emily Larned, Mrs. Lucius McClellan, Mrs. Philo Otis, Mrs. Theodore Tishen, Mrs. Patrick Valentine, Mrs. Lillian Walker, Mrs. William Yager, and Mr. and Mrs. John Zana.

The sale of second-hand evening clothes, sponsored by the provisional members of the Junior League, probably will go down in the league's history as not merely a success but a sensation. It was to have lasted two days, but when the girls in charge arrived at 9 o'clock yesterday morning to open the improvised shop at 323 North Michigan avenue they were confronted by a throng of bargain hunters who had formed a line outside the building at 7 o'clock.

By 11 o'clock all of the lovely evening dresses had been sold to eager buyers at $5, $7.50 and $10 apiece, and at noon the last pair of slightly worn slippers had found new owners. The profits are estimated to be close to $1,000 and the potential league members are congratulating themselves on the response given to their first project.

Hubert Richardson and her dad, Ralph R. Richardson, gave a father and daughter party, and it was a good party, too, last night at Maude Martin's roomy home on Chicago. There were about 30 guests. Miss Richardson hasn't yet decided definitely on the date of her wedding to Frederick Spencer of Highland Park, but it is set tentatively for April 6.

A sale for the Vocational Society for Shut-ins will be held today at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Roy O. West at 5833 Woodlawn avenue. Mrs. Charles Porter Johnson is in charge and will be assisted by Mrs. Henry Holt Hill, Mrs. Frank H. Connor, Mrs. Elmer A. Miller, Mrs. Frederic L. Davis, Mrs. Joseph A. Capps, Mrs. John H. Finlay, Mrs. Arthur H. Compston, Mrs. G. Gary Sutcliffe, Mrs. Thomas E. Wilson, Mrs. Tracy L. Turner and Mrs. Owen A. West.

Seven times seven boys at the Arden Shore camp were dined and taken to the movies in Lake Forest last night by Lake Forest women interested in that camp. Mrs. Farley Hopkins Jr., Mrs. Frederick Wacker, Mrs. Richard Stevenson, Mrs. Arthur Tuttle, Mrs. Edward S. Wells, Mrs. Robert Hixon, and Mrs. C. N. Goodwin were the hostesses who motored to the camp, picked up their seven guests each, took them back to dinner at their respective residences, and then to the films.

Mrs. Kallaghe Fairbank is giving a luncheon today at her residence for Mrs. Frank A. Vanderbilt of New York City, who will be in town for a few hours before continuing her journey to Kansas City.

Bright Sayings of the Children

Jimmy, aged 3½, was on his way to California with his mother. As people would pass their drawing room they variably asked the child the same question.

The third day he became tired of such repetition, and the first person who stopped and said, "Hello, son," was much surprised to get this reply. "My name is Jim. I am two and a half years old, and I am going to California."

Bridge Party Saturday to Aid Rosary College

Miss Ellnor O'Brien, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Martin J. O'Brien, 3551 West Congress street, is chairman of program and score card girls for the benefit bridge party which Rosary College Benefactors' league will give tomorrow afternoon in the ball room of the Auditorium hotel.

Miss O'Brien's mother is general chairman of arrangements for the party.

Among those helping toward the success of the affair are Mrs. James E. Hanley, who is assistant general chairman; Mrs. John S. Clark, who is advertising chairman; Mrs. Albert J. Horan, ticket chairman; Mrs. Robert M. Switzer, patroness chairman; Mrs. Joseph C. Wapman, and Mrs. Frederick Segers, who are co-chairmen of the reception committee, and Mrs. L. B. Murphy, who is secretary of the general committee.

Saturday's party will be the final one of a series of card parties in various parts of the city and in the suburbs to benefit the building fund of Rosary college which is located in River Forest.

Every few minutes she'd pause in her harangue to spend that three thousand. It was a live sum that had just eluded her grasp. And all because her husband didn't have the sense to get out and borrow the money or tell her about it so she could borrow.

Are Stocks the Cause of Bang-bang in Your Home, Too?

BY DORIS BLAKE

I wonder if the recent stock market beggar has involved many couples in quarrels.

I listened in on one that ended anything but comfortably for the visiting guest, myself. It began with the wife's reproaches over the lost opportunity for getting rich quick, and it ended with reproaches on both sides that had nothing to do with stock market ups and downs. But, in an ill-advised moment had told her he had a tip on a certain stock that later went up fifty points.

That was the match that set off the dynamite. Why didn't he tell her about it, then? She would have gone out and borrowed the money. They would have about $3,000 by now. All because of his stupidity, they didn't have it.

When the irate woman came back to the three thousand a third time, after having spent it twice already, and suggested what, grand little nest egg it would be to have tucked away the husband's patience collapsed. There followed hot words about the impossibility of having a nest egg without a nest, and a nest without a man had borrowed and lost on a tip, the poor devil would have been prepared for the guillotine. The moral of which little tale is simply to try to use your head about the get-rich-quick rumors afloat. It's an epidemic. Some of the victims will recover, and perhaps with money in their pockets. A number will be financially convalescent for many a long day.

This Letter Tells How Mothers May Earn Money at Home

Mrs. Evans has prepared two booklets, one on "Proper and Correct Grammar for Children" and another on "How to be Good to the Children or by Them," which will be sent free on receipt of stamped, self-addressed envelopes.

Many more requests came to me from women who wanted to know how they could earn money at home than from women telling others how to do it. It is, after all, difficult to take care of one's house and the children and also hit upon some way of making money which will not interfere with these duties.

Here, however, is a letter, bursting with practical suggestions which have been proved successful:

"And speaking of mothers adding to their family income, my experience may help a tiny bit. I take subscriptions for all standard magazines. The commissions are very liberal, usually about twenty-five per cent of the subscription price. We have a beautiful blooded dog. She was the only one of her breed in town when we got her and we had as many chances to sell her that at last we had her bred to a famous Canadian sire—and the puppies went like hot cakes at from $25 to $50 each. It is hard work taking care of dogs, but if you don't mind 'dressing down' for it—it isn't so bad. At least, we are now in the dog business and are saving all profits toward a little temporary farm we have created a long time. Then my husband is going to take over the dogs and my own dream will come true—a candy kitchen in our present home. Each month I make out the milk and ice bills for the local dairymen. He pays me well for three days' pleasant work."

"I know a woman who is sending three children through college just by frying doughnuts. They are excellent. A high school girl has earned more than $100 toward her art school tuition by painting Christmas cards this season. Middle-aged women whose husbands play in an orchestra sell tickets at the theater and she sees her friends, makes new ones and escapes long, lonely evenings. I hope you are not too bored. I have just one more thing to get off my mind and then I'll give you a rest. I wonder why more people do not follow one rule that my mother had for us. We were very poor—the old washings for a living—and we children got odd jobs after school and we always kept our own money. We had to account for every cent of it and mother audited our books once a month, but we had to spend and save it ourselves. This might, and probably did, work hardships on mother sometimes, but it taught us the value of a dollar." (Copyright, 1929, by The Chicago Tribune.)

EMBARRASSING MOMENTS

The Tribune will pay $1 for every letter published on "The Most Embarrassing Moment of My Life." Address: Embarrassing Moments, Chicago Tribune, 435 N. Dearborn St., Chicago, Ill. Write on one side of the paper. No manuscript returned.

Thinking the Gravy

My most embarrassing moment happened when we had guests for our Sunday dinner. The minister was there with his wife. The gravy boat was nearly empty, and as I left the table to refill it, my little son exclaimed, "Give me some more gravy, ma, before you water it." I didn't know whether I could enter the dining room again. A. K.

A FRIEND IN NEED

Returning from a sojourn in a desert town in New Mexico where it was difficult to obtain fresh vegetables, I stopped in Kansas on my way home at the time when early gardens were at their finest. I was particularly pleased with the very small crisp radishes and one day at dinner, when they came passed to me for the third time, I said, "I don't know how many I have had, but I'm going to take some more." The third man spoke up and said, "You've eaten fifteen." I was not embarrassed, but the poor hired man! G. H.

The typewriter you are discarding for a new one doubtless could be renovated and put in working condition again for the price named to me. The main support of his family. May he not have it?

Stop Nasal Catarrh!

Count 50! Relief! Count fifty! Your catarrh or cold in head passages. Your clogged nostrils will open, the air passages of your head will clear and you can breathe freely. No more sniffing, hawking, mucous discharge, dryness or headache; no struggling for breath at night. Get a small bottle of Ely's Cream Balm from your druggist and apply a little of this well-known antiseptic cream in your nostrils. It penetrates through every air passage of the head, soothing and healing the swollen or inflamed mucous membrane, giving you instant relief. Head colds and catarrh yield like magic. Don't stay stuffed-up and miserable. Relief is sure.

Lucius Baker, Lumberman, Dies After Year's Illness

Lucius B. Baker, lumberman and financier and chairman of the board of Baker, Pentecost & Co., died yesterday at the Evanston hospital after a year's illness. He was born 73 years ago in Kelloggville, O. In 1884 he was elected mayor of Ludington, Mich., serving one term, after which he moved to Chicago to engage in the lumber business. Among the concerns of which he was organizer or president were the Lyon Lumber company, Saginaw and Manitowish Lumber company, Continental Timber company, Naval Stores Investment company of Ashland, Wis., Northern National Bank of Ashland, Shattuck and Ashland Copper company. He was president of the Northern Pine association in 1910-11.

AUGUST M. DE VRY, 829 Buyer avenue, Oak Park, who died unexpectedly while vacationing in Florida, will be buried today in All Saints' cemetery after services at Ascension church, Clarence avenue and Van Buren street, Oak Park. Mr. De Vry was president of the American Film company.

NEW YORK.—(Special Correspondence.)—O, very well, since folks will ask these Lido questions, here is one of the things they wear out Venice way. Of course, there is no rule about beach pajamas. That is one of the reasons why they exercise such a spell on our feminine minds. You can make them of any material and in any design and nobody will think one whit the worse of you.

This particular costume is executed in a print—here natural colored, with wavy red lines interspersed with dots of green. Prints are much employed in the construction of the beach pajamas and of itself the fabric would not cause much of a stir. But regard, if you please, all the little touches and you will see why this costume is a hundred-fold more power.

First of all comes a black patent leather belt to set off the coat. Next comes a blouse of absolute individuality. This latter is tucked-in, but it is fashioned with the double breasted effect and the reverse of a man's waistcoat. Made of heavy white silk, here is a detail, in fact, which any pajama minded woman may well copy. Why would it not be excellent for our lounging pajamas?

There is a fold at the top of the trousers and these bifurcated garments illustrate otherwise one of the leading trends in apparel of this sort. We refer to the manner in which they are brought up high above the waistline for all the world like the Dickens suits worn by our small boys.

The lady of the illustration is wearing one of the Mexican sombreros which are shading so many fashionable faces on the beach and it is trimmed with bright red velvet ribbon. Unique are the beach shoes of green with rubber soles and narrow leather thong crossing the ankles.

WOMAN'S OR MISS' DRESS.

Simple sheer tweed is used for this frock with the generously full skirt at the waist, and the straight, slender neck. It closes in an entirely new way at the left side, and is trimmed with a band of faille silk crepe. A belt marks the normal waistline. The square neckline and the long, close fitting sleeves that flare slightly at the wrists are smart details.

The pattern, 3320, comes in sizes 16 and 18 years, 36, 38, 40, and 42 inches bust measure. Size 18 requires 5 1/2 yards of 40 inch material with 1/2 yard of 27 inch contrasting.

Note—Clotilde patterns are made in New York exclusively for The Chicago Daily Tribune. They are perfect in fit, up to date in style, and the easiest of all patterns to use.

JOSEPH DEFREES, CHICAGO LAWYER, DIES IN CAPITAL

Succumbs After Operation for Appendicitis.

Joseph H. Defrees, chairman of the board of directors of the United States Chamber of Commerce and well-known Chicago lawyer, died yesterday at Washington, D. C., following an operation for appendicitis. He was 71 years old.

Mr. Defrees went to Washington two weeks ago. It was learned at his apartment at the Windsor hotel yesterday, for the purpose of having the operation performed in that city, the home of his son, Donald Defrees, President of the Chamber of Commerce.

Came to Chicago in 1888.

Born in Gothen, Ind., Mr. Defrees came to Chicago in 1888 when 36 years old. He was the senior member of the law firm of Defrees, Buckingham & Eaton. He had served as president of the Chicago Bar association, president of the Chicago Association of Commerce, and was president of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States in 1920 and 1921. Mr. Defrees served as a member of the President's conference on unemployment in 1932 and was a member of the United States section of the International Chamber of Commerce. He was a charter member of the Legion of Honor of France.

Founded Indiana Society. One of the founders and the first president of the Indiana Society of Chicago, he was also a member of the Chicago Union League Club, Midway and Chicago Law clubs and of the Metropolitan club of Washington. A widow, Mrs. Katherine Defrees, and one son survive.

Funeral services will be held tomorrow at 3 o'clock at the University of Chicago chapel, 53rd street and Woodlawn avenue. Benjamin F. Attkoff, president of the Union League club, appointed the following committee to attend the funeral: John R. Montgomery, John M. Cameron, George B. McKibbin, Bruce Johnston, H. P. Chandler, Harry A. Wheeler, Lesning Rosenthal, William B. Moulton, George O. Patterson, John W. O'Leary, Lucius Teter, Joseph R. Noel, Charles S. Cutting, John H. McGibbons and Ruth C. Butler.

CLUB, RAIDED, GETS INJUNCTION AGAINST POLICE

An injunction restraining the police from interfering with the lawful operation of the Doris Social and Athletic club, 3311 Ogden avenue, was granted yesterday by Judge Hugo M. Friend. The court, however, stated that the decree should provide that the steel door, with a "lookout," should be removed and the police should be admitted at all times when they knock in an orderly way.

The club was raided by the police in November, but the defendants were discharged after a hearing in the Municipal court. Assistant Corporation Counsel James Kearns said that the police had no evidence that a violation of the law had been permitted in the club.

Former Chicago Woman Victim of Flu in Berlin

BERLIN, Feb. 5.—The first American victim of the Berlin influenza epidemic is Mrs. Alice Kux, nee Meixner, of Chicago. She played an important part as a member of the Chicago Welfare association and the Red Cross in handling the distribution of the gifts from Chicagoans and other Americans for the poor during Germany's post-war days of starvation and misery.

Elmer Discovers Something New in Dance Music

BY ELMER DOUGLASS.

Syncopated dance music filled the air last evening. It was high class stuff of its kind.

The stellar attraction in this form of entertainment was the New York program through WGN, 8 to 9. It happened that the New York program through WGN, 8 to 9, also was a symphonic dance program. It also happened also that W-G-N's later program contained much material by Chicago's highly colored syncope orchestra, Jean Goldkette and his W-G-N dance orchestra.

The syncope orchestra on the WBBM program has been given the principal credit for originating and popularizing jazz music in its most highly attained symphonic form. Gertrude's "Rhapsody in Blue" gave them a good start in those pioneer days. And this orchestra has consistently held to its course as a leader in introducing the best composition of modern music to the latest dance and experimental works in syncope.

Doctor Rides 46 Miles Over Ice to Reach His Patients

(Picture on back page.) Dr. Russell Palmer of Cross Village, Mich., was driving his pony across 46 miles of ice yesterday from the mainland to Beaver Island near the Straits of Mackinac to administer to several of the islanders suffering from pneumonia. One of those critically ill is Mrs. Charles Gallagher, whose daughter, Mary, a Chicago stenographer, broke a trail across the ice to the island to reach her mother Monday. Miss Gallagher lives with relatives at 1848 Hammond street, Chicago.

Attorney Held for Selling Medicine Asks Jury Trial

Judge Alfred O. Erickson yesterday granted the request of John H. Lally, 46 years old, 1477 Chase avenue, for a jury trial on a charge of violating the medical practice act. Lally, who is an attorney, was arrested last week by John W. Pollinger, chief inspector of the department of education and registration. He is alleged to have sold eye tablets at $5 a bottle to Raymond C. Casman, 21 years old, 1844 North Cicero avenue, who is blind. When taken into custody, he could not produce a physician's license.

TRACE NEW COAT CLEW IN SEARCH FOR NEWSGIRL

Found Where She Was Known to Be.

Terre Haute, Ind., Feb. 5.—[Special.]—Finding of another bloodstained coat today on the Dixie See Line highway in the vicinity of Bussers creek encouraged searchers for Edith May Dierdorf, 19 year old news girl, missing from her home in Terre Haute since Jan. 27.

Adolph Kruse, sheriff of Knox county, who was notified by Oaktown citizens of the finding of the coat, went to Oaktown to investigate. Several days ago another coat thought worn by the girl was found.

The new clew corresponds with two other clews from Sullivan and Knox counties. Carried by the girl in delivery newspapers, was found south of Sullivan. The bag had been thrown from a bridge spanning Bussers creek.

Search Farm House.

Then Sheriff Kruse searched an abandoned farm house near Emmons, Knox county on report that a farmer in the community had seen an elderly man and girl answering the description of the Dierdorf girl enter the house Monday following the Sunday on which she disappeared.

Oaktown is approximately twenty miles south of Paxton, and Emmons is ten miles south of Oaktown.

Investigation of the clews obtained thus far in their search, tonight advanced the belief that Edith May was taken over the road leading south from Terre Haute through Sullivan, Paxton, Oaktown and Emmons.

The coat found today was picked up near the creek by Fred Kite and John Bennefeld, both of Oaktown.
